Committee Formally Urges Senate To OK Test Ban Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee assured the Senate today that the "balance of risks" is in favor of ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

In a formal report recommending approval of the ban on atmospheric, underwater and outer space testing, the committee said U.S. strategic capability is such that "a nuclear attack against the United States on any scale would assure the devastation of the Soviet Union in a retaliatory blow."

"The committee finds the balance of risks weighted in favor of the treaty," the report asserted.

"It is possible by testing underground that the Soviet Union will slowly erase the technological in some critical areas of nuclear development."

"But it is equally true, as the hearings indicated, that this gap could be closed much more rapidly if unrestricted testing were continued."

Defecting GI Fails To Make West Contact

BERLIN (AP) — An American Army captain who defected to East Germany four months ago has made an unsuccessful attempt to regain contact with the West, U.S. Army authorities said today.

A U.S. Army spokesman said Capt. Alfred Svenson, 30, of Scranton, Pa., made contact with a Western newsmen in East Berlin Tuesday.

When U.S. Army officers attempted to meet Svenson they couldn't locate him, the spokesman said.

It was the first that had been heard of Svenson since he defected on May 4.

U.S. authorities in Berlin were informed early Tuesday by the British news agency, Reuters, that Svenson had contacted their correspondent.

Svenson was reported to be bleeding and ill and to have complained he was being ill-treated by East German police. He indicated he was trying to get in touch with American authorities.

The Army spokesman said U.S. officials had no doubt the man who went to Reuters office was Svenson. He had been identified on the basis of information supplied by the correspondent, the spokesman said.

Abbey Theater Stone Set

DUBLIN (AP) — President Eamon De Valera of Ireland laid the foundation stone of the Abbey Theater in Dublin Tuesday. It will be built on the site of the one destroyed by fire in 1951.

Kennedy Ready To Tap Railroad Panel Members

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to announce today or Thursday his selection of three neutral members to serve on an arbitration panel in the railroad work rules dispute.

Under legislation enacted hurriedly last week to avert a nationwide railroad strike on Aug. 29, he has until Saturday to name three neutral arbitrators to the seven-member panel which will rule on two prime issues in the dispute.

A high government source indicated today the President probably would announce his selections before Friday. That's the day on which Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meets with rail and union representatives to discuss procedures for arbitration of the issues of locomotive firemen's jobs and train crew makeup and for resumption of negotiation of other issues.

"It would be presumptuous to hold the meeting Friday without having learned who will serve on the arbitration board," the source said.

A list of possible arbitrators to be added to four already selected — two by the railroads and two by the unions — apparently was under study by Labor Department officials and White House staff members.

Indications are that two of the neutral arbitrators will be experts in the transportation field. The third member, who would serve as panel chairman, the source said probably would come from the general public.

Under the emergency bill enacted last week, hearings in arbitration of the case must begin within 30 days. The board would have 60 more days to make a decision and would make it public in another 60 days.

Negotiations on other issues such as wage structure, interdivisional runs and combination of road and yard work would have to be carried on at the same time.

Regardless of whether agreement is reached on the issues to be negotiated, the award of the arbitration panel is to go into effect within 180 days of Aug. 28, the day the bill was signed. The award would be effective for two years, but there is nothing to prevent a strike on the other issues should the two parties fail to come to agreement.

Trieste Finds More Debris

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bathyscaphe Trieste has sighted additional debris on the ocean floor where it is searching for the wreck of the sunken nuclear submarine Thresher.

The latest find was made on the fourth of five dives by the Trieste in the current series being conducted in 8,400 feet of water about 22 miles east of Boston, the Navy said.

This material includes what appeared to be pieces of metal, battery plates, copper tubing and miscellaneous debris, similar to material found earlier and believed to have come from the Thresher.

The Thresher disappeared in a test dive on April 10, with 129 men aboard.

Mt. Sterling Crash Fatal to Woman

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — A Lancaster woman was killed Tuesday night when a car in which she was a passenger veered across the Kiousville-Palestine Road and hit a culvert five miles north of Mount Sterling in Madison County.

Victim of the accident was Stella Brehm, about 50, of Lancaster. The driver of the car, Mrs. Kathryn Stamm, 80, of near Columbus, is in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus. She suffered cuts and a fractured knee. The two women had been at a farm Mrs. Stamm owns and apparently were on their way back to Columbus at the time of the accident. Both driver and passenger were pinned in the car.

South Viet Nam Likes U.S. Aid, But Not Criticism of Government

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The government of South Viet Nam has turned a deaf ear to President Kennedy's pleas for reforms to rally public support for President Ngo Dinh Diem and win the war against Communist guerrillas.

While a government spokesman welcomed Kennedy's pledge of continued U.S. aid in the anti-Communist war, he said Tuesday the President's criticism of Diem's domestic policies was "quite wrong" and "based on inadequate information."

U.S. officials in Washington privately voiced disappointment over the negative reaction to Kennedy's plea for reforms. The Saigon stand was considered a blow to a solution of deteriorating U.S.-Vietnam relations.

The American President appealed to the Vietnamese government Monday to rally public support by changes in policy "and perhaps in personnel."

He apparently had in mind Diem's brother-adviser, Ngo Dinh Nhu. Washington believes Nhu was responsible for the anti-Buddhist crackdown Aug. 21 when martial law was imposed in South Viet Nam. A Roman Catholic, Diem has denied Buddhist charges of religious discrimination.

The Vietnamese government spokesman noted that "Kennedy said the United States should not withdraw its support of Viet Nam, and that is heartening." U.S. military and other aid to Viet Nam is running $500 million a year.

Washington reacted sharply to a story published in Saigon that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency had plotted to overthrow the Diem government with the help of dissidents in South Viet Nam.

State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips denied the charges which appeared in a government-backed Vietnamese newspaper, the Times of Viet Nam. He likened the story to a fiction thriller.

The State Department acknowledged that the U.S. embassy in Saigon had rejected a formal request from South Vietnamese authorities for custody of three Buddhist monks who took refuge in the embassy Sunday.

The three include Thich Tri Quang, top organizer of the Buddhist anti-government movement.

The embassy turned away a fourth monk who appealed for asylum Tuesday. "We're just too full," an embassy official explained.

'Bama Governor Remains Quiet Disorders Brief

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two Negro brothers entered school with white children today and brief disorders broke out at the elementary school where they registered.

Dwight and Floyd Armstrong, accompanied by four Negro men, entered the Graymont grammar school through a side door. They enrolled and 10 minutes later left by the same door.

They became pupils in the fifth and sixth grades — the first Negroes in Alabama to enter an elementary school with white children.

Demonstrations by about 100 white persons who had gathered early on the sidewalks about the school followed. Police brought in riot squads armed with carbines and rifles.

The white segregationists yelled "let's get those niggers out of there" and "nigger lovers."

They chanted, "two, four, six, eight, we don't want to integrate."

Using a megaphone, police Capt. George Wall offered to let one of the group advance and talk things over. The crowd shouted back: "We're going to stay here until they close the schools."

At least three white men and one Negro man were arrested. Police broke up crowds of Negro spectators on a corner facing the demonstrators.

After about 25 minutes of yelling and placard waving, the white group led by officials of the National States Rights Party filed back in cars in a nearby parking lot and departed.

Gov. George C. Wallace, who Tuesday sent hundreds of state troopers, wildlife rangers and other special officers into the city, maintained silence at the executive mansion in Montgomery. The state forces did not show up at any of the three schools ordered desegregated by a federal court.

A total of 93 schools opened in Birmingham today with enrollment expected to exceed last year's record 72,000. Negroes did not appear as scheduled at the West End and Ramsay high schools.

A group of about 50 states righters appeared at Ramsay. They waved Confederate flags and protested a police barricade. Some wore gastaop-type uniforms.

In the Gulf coast city of Mobile, two young Negroes accompanied by two city policemen registered for the 12th grade at the Board of Education office. There were no incidents. No other pupils were present.

The Justice Department said in Washington: "The schools will be opened and the Negro students will attend them."

In this crossfire from local and federal authorities, the fiery segregationist governor said Tuesday night in a statement: "I shall continue to take whatever action I think is necessary to further the interest of all citizens of Alabama."

The governor's press secretary said:

"The governor is continuing to fight this integration of the school system of Alabama and he's continuing to fight the overpowering force of the federal government because he thinks it's destroying liberty and freedom in this country and it's leading to a military dictatorship."

Field Marshal Named To Guard Windsor Castle

LONDON (AP) — Field Marshal Viscount Slim, 72, has taken over the job of preserving law and order at Windsor Castle, Queen Elizabeth's palace on the Upper Thames.

Slim, veteran of World War II Asian campaigns and later chief of the Imperial General Staff, became constable and lieutenant governor of the Castle Tuesday. He will be in charge of security and will mount the castle's ceremonial parades.

Steel Mill Strike Ends

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Operations were returning to normal at the big Gary works of U.S. Steel Corp. today after a wildcat walk-out that idled 15,000 workers.

Khrush Seen Shelving Plan To Dominate All Communists

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Premier Khrushchev's tour of Yugoslavia into closer economic ties with the Soviet Union and other countries of the Eastern bloc.

In Stalin's day, Moscow controlled its satellites and other communist parties by tough discipline. The situation has greatly changed in the past few years.

Yugoslavia escaped from Moscow's orbit in 1948, the only Communist nation to do so until Stalin's death.

Since then, Albania and Asian Communist nations led by Red China have adopted independent and anti-Soviet lines. Signs of disobedience also have recently appeared in Romania.

Observers now believe Moscow is trying to regain control through subtle economic means.

The idea is to dominate Comecon, the Communist answer to the European Common Market. By centralized planning of production, Moscow could impose its will and ultimately wreck the economic independence of its members. This idea is behind Romania's discontent. It resented being assigned to a largely agricultural role in Comecon.

If one country under Comecon's so-called "socialistic division of labor" specializes in a certain product or line of products, it will become fully dependent upon the Soviet Union and its neighbors for those items it does not produce. Export possibilities to the West also would appreciably diminish with the curtailment of variety in goods produced.

The loss of economic independence would mean the restoration of Moscow's political domination.

Khrushchev's speeches in Yugoslavia repeatedly stressed his desire for Yugoslavia to join in this cooperation.

Yugoslav Communists made it clear they want an observer post in both Comecon and the Common Market.

Yugoslav trade is almost equally distributed among Western, Communist and nonaligned countries of Asia and Africa. The emphasis is on developing further trade with new nations and continuing the upward trend with Western countries.

ROK Regime's Foe Arrested

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korea's military authorities arrested former Premier Yo-Chan (Tiger) Song at a Seoul hospital where he had been admitted for treatment of high blood pressure.

Song, an outspoken opponent to the military rule in South Korea, was taken from Yonsei University Hospital to Mapo Prison in an army ambulance.

Officials of the military investigation authority showed up at the hospital, showed him an arrest warrant issued by Lt. Gen. Kei Won Kim, deputy chief of staff of the army who has been named justice of Song's trial, and whisked him away to the prison.

The arrest came shortly after a South Korean army court martial Wednesday indefinitely postponed Song's trial because of the defendant's poor health.

Blanchester Boy Killed By Tractor-Drawn Wagon

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Eleven-year-old Duane Dean of near Blanchester was killed Tuesday when he fell from a tractor-drawn water wagon and was run over by the wagon. The accident occurred on Second Creek Road near Blanchester.

Thomas O. Salisbury, 14, was driving the tractor while the Dean boy rode on the wagon. They were enroute to water some hogs.

Motorcyclist Killed Near County Line

Father of Three Becomes County's 11th Traffic Death

Lloyd Kirkner, 37, of near Groveport, became Pickaway County's 11th traffic fatality of the year last night after his motorcycle skidded into a culvert on the Circle ville-Canal Winchester Road just south of the Franklin-Pickaway County Line.

Kirkner was pronounced dead on arrival at Lockbourne Air Force Base Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff George Linder, who investigated the accident, said Kirkner apparently lost control of his motorcycle on loose gravel. The road had just been resurfaced yesterday.

Kirkner was married and the father of three daughters. His body was taken to the Franklin County morgue following the accident.

He Will Never Live This Down

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Lester M. Funk drove his auto into a moving Baltimore & Ohio freight near here early today.

Funk was thrown from his car and suffered minor injuries, the highway patrol reported. The 39-year-old Willard man is a locomotive engineer for the same railroad.

Georgia Prison 'Too Crowded'

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Moves were under way today to reduce the population of Georgia's maximum security prison in the wake of a riot that injured about 35 and caused $25,000 damage.

Prison Director Fred Hallford said Tuesday's violence points to a need for additional room in the prison system.

Hallford and Warden R.P. Balkcom said they had been unable to determine any direct cause for the riot, involving about 2,000 of the more than 3,000 inmates.

Violence flared anew Tuesday night in a cell block housing about 120 inmates, but guards broke up the demonstrations with tear gas.

Hallford said the prison, built about 20 years ago, can safely care for about 2,000 inmates. It now holds 3,081.

Coffee Break Is Favored in $11,600 Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coffee Break, owned by the C.M. Stables of Archbold, Ohio, was installed as the 2 to 1 favorite today to win Friday night's $11,600 opening leg of the HTA Pace for four-year-olds at Scioto Downs.

Four more races are scheduled in the series, with the top 10 point winners meeting Friday, Oct. 11, in the $50,000 finale at New York's Roosevelt Raceway.

Ten starters drew post positions today for the inaugural clash, with Rusty Range, owned by William Eggers of Livonia, Mich., the second choice at 3 to 1.

Coffee Break, trained and driven by G. Sholtz, has won six of his last seven starts, paced to a 1:57 record as a three-year-old.

He has gone twice in 1:59 3-5 on half-mile tracks this year, and last Friday copped the $83,000 American-National Stake at Chicago.

Following Friday's race the hopefuls stage the remaining legs of the HTA feature at Northfield (Cleveland) Sept. 13, Montreal Sept. 20, Rockingham Park (N.H.) Sept. 27, and Batavia, N.Y., Oct. 4, to determine the Oct. 11 entrants.

Here are the post positions for Friday's pace:

1. Rusty Range (Niles)
2. Lehigh Hanover (Dancer)
3. Mr. C Song (Tillman)
4. Smart Money (Smart)
5. Buxton Hanover (Haughton) (x)
6. Mighty Tar Heel (Shuttleworth)

All-Negro Xenia School Is Boycotted

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Picketing began at the East Lincoln Elementary School today in the NAACP's fight against what it terms "defacto segregation" at the school.

Lincoln has about 340 pupils, all Negro, but only a handful showed up at the opening of classes. Earlier, the NAACP said about 90 per cent of the parents had agreed to boycott the classes.

An estimated 30 pickets were on duty, carrying nine signs, and the picketing was peaceful. An early count showed only 34 students in classes out of 300 who were expected. Forty kindergarten students are not scheduled to start classes until Monday.

All other schools in the city are integrated. But Lincoln Elementary is in a school district where Negro residents predominate, and the local NAACP says the situation at the school is "segregation according to school boundaries."

The boundary was set back in 1893 when it separated all-white districts.

One of the pickets at the school said the group planned to keep their children at home "one or two days, possibly longer."

Some of the signs carried by the pickets read: "End School Segregation in Xenia Now!" "Mothers Demand Equal Education." "Jim Crow Must Go!" and "Xenia School Board Is Unfair."

Israel, Syria OK Truce on Border

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Syria and Israel pledged today to maintain a cease-fire on their uneasy border after the Soviet Union vetoed a U.N. Security Council resolution condemning Syria in the slaying Aug. 19 of two Israeli farmers on the frontier.

The U.S.-British resolution won the support of eight members of the Security Council. Morocco, an Arab league member, and the Soviet Union voted against it. Venezuela abstained.

Council President Jacinto Castel Borja of the Philippines appealed to the Syrians and the Israelis to maintain the cease-fire they promised the U.N. truce supervisory organization after the shootings.

Woman Driver Injured in 2-Car Mishap

Linda Sue Hosler, 21, Williamsport, received minor injuries yesterday in an accident at the corner of West Main and Scioto Sts.

Miss Hosler was taken to Berger Hospital and then transferred to the office of Dr. F. W. Anderson for treatment. According to the report filed by investigating officers from the Circleville Police Department she had two teeth knocked out, suffered possible neck and internal injuries and abrasions.

The mishap occurred when Elza Ray Bailes, 44, Route 4, made a left hand turn at the intersection. Miss Hosler struck his right front fender.

Bailes has been cited to appear in Circleville Municipal Court for failure to yield the right of way. Investigating officers were Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolman Richard Anderson.

Cohn Indicted For False Jury Data

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy M. Cohn was indicted today by a federal grand jury, charged with conspiring to obstruct justice and commit perjury.

Indicted with Cohn, former aide to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy and former Asst. U. S. Attorney, was Murray E. Gottesman, also an attorney.

Both were accused of testifying false before the grand jury.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said the grand jury was investigating whether there had been a conspiracy to bribe any public official and obstruct justice in connection with a 1959 investigation of the United Dye stock fraud.

After stepping into the national limelight with the McCarthy-Army Senate hearings, Cohn began to build a business empire. In the course of this, he was closely associated with Paul Hughes, indicted as a co-conspirator in the United Dye case. Cohn loaned Hughes $218,000 to buy stock in the Lionel Corp., of which Cohn was chairman.

The indictment said that in February, 1959, the Securities and Exchange Commission recommended to the U.S. attorney's office in Manhattan that a grand jury study the manipulations of the common stock of United Dye and Chemical Corp.

Two injured in Route 23 Auto Crash

Currently under investigation by the Ohio State Highway Patrol is a one car accident that occurred at 6:45 p. m. yesterday on Route 23 two miles north of Route 762.

Two persons were injured in the one car mishap. Driver of the car was George Helton, 40, of Beaver.

According to the investigating officers report, Helton was apparently heading north at an excessive rate of speed. His vehicle entered the median strip, rolled completely over, crossed over both lanes of traffic coming to a halt in a field on the east side of the road.

The names of the injured persons or the extent of their injuries were not released by the patrol. The injured were sent to Mercy Hospital, Columbus for treatment.

Father of Unity In Europe Dies

MET. France (AP) — Robert Schuman, 77, often called the father of European unity, died today after a long illness.

Schuman laid out the plan for the European Coal and Steel pool, a production and marketing organization linking France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

The same countries later formed the Common Market, or the European Economic Community. Promoters of European unity hope the Common Market will develop into a Europe welded together politically as well as economically.

The Schuman plan was unveiled in 1950, when its author was foreign minister of France.

Stock Market Trading Heavy

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels gave a rising stock market strong leadership early this afternoon in heavy trading.

The ticker tape ran late and prices moved ahead on balance, despite profit taking in many issues which have been strong recently.

The main thought in Wall Street was whether the Dow Jones industrial average would top its record closing high of 734.91 made Dec. 13, 1961.

Half-hour readings of this close-watched barometer showed the market approaching the record in early dealings, then losing some of its gain, then going higher in the afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon gained .3 at 280.3, with industrials up .9, rails off .2 and utilities up .1.

Father of Unity In Europe Dies

MET. France (AP) — Robert Schuman, 77, often called the father of European unity, died today after a long illness.

Schuman laid out the plan for the European Coal and Steel pool, a production and marketing organization linking France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

The same countries later formed the Common Market, or the European Economic Community. Promoters of European unity hope the Common Market will develop into a Europe welded together politically as well as economically.

The Schuman plan was unveiled in 1950, when its author was foreign minister of France.

Ohio Singer Finds Success Mounting behind Iron Curtain

PARIS (AP) — Everything's coming up roses for LuLu Porter, Cinderella American songstress who found stardom behind the Iron Curtain.

"I've got so many offers—television, recordings, nightclubs, even movies," an excited LuLu said today.

The brown-eyed brunette was little known when she packed her bag in California last month and headed for the Polish International Song Festival in Warsaw. As the official U.S. entry, LuLu won the best performance award by belting out "Everything's Coming up Roses."

Coffee Break Is Favored in $11,600 Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coffee Break, owned by the C.M. Stables of Archbold, Ohio, was installed as the 2 to 1 favorite today to win Friday night's $11,600 opening leg of the HTA Pace for four-year-olds at Scioto Downs.

Four more races are scheduled in the series, with the top 10 winners meeting Friday, Oct. 11, in the $50,000 finale at New York's Roosevelt Raceway.

Ten starters drew post positions today for the inaugural clash, with Rusty Range, owned by William Eggers of Livonia, Mich., the second choice at 3 to 1.

Coffee Break, trained and driven by G. Sholtz, has won six of his last seven starts, paced to a 1:57 record as a three-year-old, has gone twice in 1:59 3-5 on half-mile tracks this year, and last Friday copied the $83,000 American National Stake at Chicago.

Following Friday's race the hopefuls stage the remaining legs of the HTA feature at Northfield (Cleveland) Sept. 13, Montreal Sept. 20, Rockingham Park (N.H.) Sept. 27, and Batavia, N.Y., Oct. 4, to determine the Oct. 11 entrants.

Here are the post positions for Friday's pace:

1. Rusty Range (Niles)

2. Lehigh Hanover (Dancer)

3. Mr. C Song (Tillman)

4. Smart Money (Smart)

5. Buxton Hanover (Haughton) (x)

6. Mighty Tar Heel (Shuttleworth)

7. Harold J (Haughton) (x)

8. Coffee Break (Sholtz)

9. Andora's Dream (Williams) (x) Entry

All-Negro Xenia School Is Boycotted

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Picketing began at the East Lincoln Elementary School today in the NAACP's fight against what it terms "de facto segregation" at the school.

Lincoln has about 340 pupils, all Negro, but only a handful showed up at the opening of classes. Earlier, the NAACP said about 90 per cent of the parents had agreed to boycott the classes.

An estimated 30 pickets were on duty, carrying nine signs, and the picketing was peaceful. An early count showed only 34 students in classes out of 300 who were expected. Forty kindergarten students are not scheduled to start classes until Monday.

All other schools in the city are integrated. But Lincoln Elementary is in a school district where Negro residents predominate, and the local NAACP says the situation at the school is "segregation according to school boundaries."

The boundary was set back in 1893 when it separated all-white districts. One of the pickets at the school said the group planned to keep their children at home "one or two days, possibly longer."

Some of the signs carried by the pickets read: "End School Segregation in Xenia Now!" "Mothers Demand Equal Education!" "Jim Crow Must Go!" "Xenia School Board Is Unfair!"

Israel, Syria OK Truce on Border

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Syria and Israel pledged today to maintain a cease-fire on their uneasy border after the Soviet Union vetoed a U.N. Security Council resolution condemning Syria in the slaying Aug. 19 of two Israeli farmers on the frontier.

The U.S.-British resolution won the support of eight members of the Security Council. Morocco, an Arab league member, and the Soviet Union voted against it. Venezuela abstained.

Council President Jacinto Castel Borja of the Philippines appealed to the Syrians and the Israelis to maintain the cease-fire they promised the U.N. truce supervisory organization after the shootings.

Local SCCA Meets

The Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults met yesterday at the Masonic Temple with Mrs. C. J. Schwizer presiding.

Reports were given by Mrs. Roger Jury, Mrs. Harry Betz and Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick during the business session.

The local unit decided to purchase another wheel chair for use by Pickaway County patients.

Mrs. Schwizer announced the next meeting would be held Oct. 1 and all interested persons are urged to attend.

Two Injured In Route 23 Auto Crash

Currently under investigation by the Ohio State Highway Patrol is a one car accident that occurred at 6:45 p.m. yesterday on Route 23 two miles north of Route 762.

Two persons were injured in the one car mishap. Driver of the car was George Helton, 40, of Beaver.

According to the investigating officers report, Helton was apparently heading north at an excessive rate of speed. His vehicle entered the median strip, rolled completely over, crossed over both lanes of traffic coming to a halt in a field on the east side of the road.

The names of the injured persons or the extent of their injuries were not released by the patrol. The injured were sent to Mercy Hospital, Columbus for treatment.

No Life without Rain

A group of medical men recently held a clinic on rain. Its conclusions may have been scientifically accurate, but they are hardly in keeping with normal human reactions.

They declare rain dampens enthusiasm, tend to invoke low spirits, and in other ways takes the joy out of life. There will be wide disagreement with these conclusions.

In the case of rain, as in all other things in life, there can be too much of a good thing. But rain is a blessing and so regarded by most persons.

TV Industry Goofs

The geniuses who mastermind the TV industry goofed this summer. Usually they offer summer replacements and these often, whether by design or accident, are so bad that viewers welcome back their favorite winter shows avidly.

Not so this year. What was offered? A greater than usual number of reruns of the winter shows, most of which weren't good enough to merit a second viewing. So what did the viewer do? He turned off the

On the great plains rain in July and August is nature's greatest blessing. The air is cooled, a thirsty soil replenished. While not particularly welcome at harvest time, even then the benefit outweighs the harm.

Nothing but the heaviest downpour will keep the city dweller indoors. Children whose actions are normal and uninhibited, love to play in the rain. Thousands will sit in the rain to see a football game.

Rain takes the joy out of life? Without rain, there would be no life.

Repaying a Favor

While the United States, Britain and Russia are being officially friendly all over the place, some more mortals continue to prove that the human animal can often be a bit of a beast.

Take the experience of Floyd Baca of Casper, Wyo., recently had. He decided to play "good samaritan" when he saw set, and discovered how pleasant life can really be without the hypnotic effect of the single flickering eye.

It seems quite possible that some people watched the reruns long enough to get heartily sick of all the shows. At least their enthusiasm is not going to be what it might have been if they had been offered more relief fare — however corny — during the summer.

some motorist changing a flat tire. He offered to help. While he was changing the tire, the car slipped from the jack and fell on his leg. The car owners jacked the car up again, put on the spare tire and drove off — leaving Baca lying on the road.

Baca can be excused if he doubts its possible for nations to get along together.

Lady Comic Enjoys Her Work

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Phyllis Diller, who dresses to look like an ostrich on a three-day binge, is perhaps the only woman in America with five children who also were white, glue and rose-colored contact lenses.

"My goal is to be a gracious woman," she remarked matter-of-factly. "But I decided that if I was to be an idiot, broad, I might as well make it pay."

Miss Diller certainly has made it pay. As "the female Bob Hope," master of the one-line quip, she has become a reigning queen of the night club circuit.

"Last year I paid taxes on $260,000," she said. "This year I hope to make a half million."

Then, she is confident, she will go on to a million, two million, etc., etc.

"But progress is mathematical," she declared during a rest between her frantic nightly chores at the Hotel Americana's Royal Box. "There is no point in being impatient."

A good standup lady comic is a rarity in show business, and Miss Diller is currently the most successful in the field.

"It sounds like a housewife's dream—to have a roomful of people listening to her," she said. "And it is."

"But most women wouldn't stick to this line of work. They'd get too hurt emotionally. But to me it's a form of therapy."

Eight years ago Phyllis, then 37, was just another working housewife—she had a radio writing job—who got a big kick out of entertaining other women with her zany antics.

Her husband, Sherwood, kept urging her to turn professional.

She did finally—with considerable qualms.

"I had to give up a $100 a week job, an expense account and a car to become an unemployed comic," she said.

Billed as "Phyllis Diller, the homely friendmaker," she landed a $60 a week job in a San Francisco club with an outlandish act in which she set about stuffing a turkey—through the beak.

"It took me years to work up to $110 a week," she said. Rigorously self-disciplined, she makes up most of her own material.

Miss Diller, now 45, doesn't worry about an improvident old age. She has a land investment program.

"I have a piece of land in Idaho 40 miles long and one inch wide," she said. "I use it now to store string."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—More often than not the stock market turns down in September. But this time many brokers are plugging for an upturn. They think times are getting ripe for the small investor to return.

He apparently had little to do with the modest rise in the stock price averages in August, which traditionalists now are calling the summer rally. The same chart followers say that such a rally usually is followed by a slide-off after Labor Day.

The little fellow has been wary since he got burned in the May-June crash of 1962. But those who think he may be tempted back in force to the market now point to a number of things:

Slowly rising prices in scattered industrial materials and consumer goods could build public suspicion that inflation may not be as dead as the money managers would like to think — and rising prices usually spur stock buying.

Congress seems set sooner or later to hand out some goodies—a tax cut for both business and individuals, more government spending in a variety of lines, all designed to beef up the economy.

International affairs, in spite of the many trouble spots, are calmer than a year or two ago—Khrushchev talks more friendly, whether he means it or not; the chicken war between the United States and the Common Market may be compromised before it breaks out into full-fledged trade war.

Industrial statistics and business predictions are more than usually optimistic for the season, which would make numerous companies (and their stocks) look good to investors.

Factory sales have risen to a new high and, more important for the future, manufacturers' new orders have increased. Still farther in the future is the good prospect tied to the reported rise in August and July of machine tool orders, meaning industry is preparing for expected more activity.

Retail sales continue to gain modestly. This, along with increased installment credit, shows the consumer to be in a buying mood still.

High auto sales and output build hopes for a third straight year of prosperity for that key industry, which would be an unprecedented thing.

Steel orders have shown their first quickening after the summer lull. Inventories of steel users, built up during the labor negotiations, are reported to be approaching normal levels.

Industry also is free for the time being of fears of a rail strike that could have snarled its supply and product distribution lines.

All of this adds up to promises of a good fall for industry and trade.

Sue Courtright Becomes Bride of James Stauffer

MRS. JAMES ALLEN STAUFFER

Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting Aug. 24, for the wedding of Miss Sue Anne Courtright and Mr. James Allen Stauffer. The Rev. Harry E. Boyer, Toledo, assisted at the 2:30 p. m. double ring ceremony before an altar enhanced with white gladioli, pom-poms and carnations flanked by two seven-branch candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ross Courtright, Route 1, Kingston, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stauffer, Route 3.

Mrs. John Schumann, organist, played "Because", "O, Perfect Love", "Always", and "Oh Promise Me". Mrs. Carl Hohenstein sang "The Wedding Prayer", "I Love You Truly", "Beloved It is Morn" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. Seed pearls and iridescent frosted beads adorned the bodice. A partially hidden taffeta cummerbund accented the waistline and the bouffant skirt swept to a full chapel train. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion, tipped with Chantilly lace was held in place by a pearl tiara. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade of daisies centered with a white orchid and a lace handkerchief which had belonged to her great-grandmother.

Miss Janice Goss served as maid of honor. She wore a powder blue gown of nylon peau fashioned with a scooped neckline and cape sleeves. A tulip shaped tunic enhanced the controlled bell skirt and she wore a matching rose petal headpiece with a circle veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue daisies surrounded by miniature pom-poms and her silver cross was a gift from the bride.

Bridesmaids were Miss Deborah Stauffer, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Kay Hardy, cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Sharon Lauer and Miss Susan Blue. Their dress in cotton blue were identical to the maid of honor's. They carried colonial bouquets of light blue daisies surrounded by miniature pom-poms. Each attendant wore a silver cross necklace, a gift of the bride.

Miss Faith Ann Sabine, cousin of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon dress with a matching white circle

Guest Speaker Slated For Meeting Tuesday

Members of the Child Conservation League will meet 2 p. m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. William Richards, Route 2.

Dr. W. L. Sproule will be guest speaker.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Look before You Sign

DEAR ABBY: We had a little damage to our roof (rain and high winds) and the insurance company man said to get an "estimate" on the cost of repairing it. I asked around, and a neighbor gave me the number of a roofing company. A man came right out, looked at the roof, and said it would cost $200 to fix it. I told him it sounded fair to me, but I'd talk to my husband. Then I signed something, but was in too big a hurry to read all of it. I only wanted an estimate, Abby. The next morning at eight o'clock I heard pounding and hammering on my roof. Three men were up there working. I told the head man I had only signed for an "estimate" but he showed me where I had signed a CONTRACT. They were finished in three hours and demanded their $200. I was dumbfounded. I had to go to the bank and draw out the money because the contract said CASH. My husband said I was a moron. Abby, I'm sick. Can people do business this way and get away with it?

SICK
DEAR ABBY: Yes. And they specialize in people who are in too big a hurry to read something, but sign it anyway. My advice to you (tho a little late) and to others, is to sign nothing without having first talked it over with your husband—or a lawyer. P.S. I hope you reported the "roofing company" to the Better Business Bureau.

DEAR ABBY: Somewhere along the line I've lost control of my seven-year-old son. I've had complaints from Tommy's school teachers, the neighbors and now again. I had Tommy to the dentist and it took him from 1:30 until 3:30 to fill one tooth. The boy screamed so loudly the dentist clamped his hand over his mouth, and Tommy bit him. The dental assistant came out and told me to please find another dentist next time. She suggested that I give him tranquilizers (for a seven-year-old!) or take him to a psychiatrist. I admit he is hard to handle, but do you think he is a case for a psychiatrist?

HIS MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I don't know, but the only way to find out is to take him to one.

DEAR ABBY: My wife tells me that in some states there is a law stating if a couple has been married 25 years or more, they cannot get a divorce unless they both submit to mental examinations. Is this a fact? If so, in which states?

RUTH'S HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: There is no such law, but I think there ought to be.

Lois Wittich Receives Award From University

MISS LOIS WITTICH

Miss Lois Wittich, daughter of Mrs. J. C. Beery, 137 Pinckney St., has received a graduate assistantship from Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind. The award was made as a result of auditions held on the Bloomington campus.

She is majoring in voice, working towards a master of music degree. She will also teach secondary voice at the university beginning Sept. 16.

Prior to enrollment at Indiana University she attended Capital University, Columbus. She has a bachelor of music degree and during the past year was vocal music instructor in the Alliance city school system.

Throughout college she has been employed as a church musician at the First Methodist Church and Saint Philip's Episcopal Church of Circleville and at Saint John's Lutheran Church, Grove City. She is a member of Phi Beta, a national professional fraternity for women in music and speech.

Miss Wittich has been soprano soloist at Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, Alliance, and with the Capital University Chapel Choir on its tours of the United States and Canada and of eight European countries. During the past summer she was a counselor at the Summer Music Clinic at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, O., and also served as substitute organist-choir director at Saint Philip's Episcopal Church, Circleville.

Sue Courtright Becomes Bride of James Stauffer

MRS. JAMES ALLEN STAUFFER

Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting Aug. 24, for the wedding of Miss Sue Anne Courtright and Mr. James Allen Stauffer. The Rev. Harry E. Boyer, Toledo, assisted by Rev. Albert Swingle, officiated at the 2:30 p. m. double ring ceremony before an altar enhanced with white gladioli, poms and carnations flanked by two seven - branch candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ross Courtright, Route 1, Kingston and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stauffer, Route 3.

Mrs. John Schumann, organist, played "Because", "O, Perfect Love", "Always", and "Oh Promise Me". Mrs. Carl Hohenstein sang "The Wedding Prayer", "I Love You Truly", "Beloved It is Morn" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. Seed pearls and iridescent frosted the neckline and bodice. A partially hidden taffeta cummerbund accented the waistline and the bouffant skirt swept to a full chapel train. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion, tipped with Chantilly lace was held in place by a pearl tiara. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade of daisies centered with a white orchid and a lace handkerchief which had belonged to her great-grandmother.

Miss Janice Goss served as maid of honor. She wore a powder blue gown of nylon peau fashioned with a scooped neckline and cape sleeves. A tulip shaped tunic enhanced the controlled bell skirt and she wore a matching rose petal headpiece with a circle veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue daisies surrounded by miniature pompons and her silver cross was a gift from the bride.

Bridesmaids were Miss Deborah Stauffer, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Kay Hardy, cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Sharon Lauerman and Miss Susan Blue. Their dresses in ecotillon blue were identical to the maid of honor's. They carried colonial bouquets of light blue daisies surrounded by miniature pompons. Each attendant wore a silver cross necklace, a gift of the bride.

Miss Faith Ann Sabine, cousin of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon dress with a matching white circle

DEB SHOP

CHATTER

Most women have more things to do than they can possibly manage and we are no exception. However, we were delighted to find there are other women who seem quite busy, as this following little poem indicates. Thanks to whoever sent it to us! We would like to pass it along.

"On Monday, she lunched with the Housing Committee. With statistics and stew she was filled. Then she dashed to a tea on 'Crime in our City.' And she dined with the Church Ladies Guild.

On Tuesday, she went to a Baby's Week lunch. And a tea on 'Good Citizenship.' At dinner she talked to the Trade Union Branch. There wasn't a date she dared to skip.

On Wednesday, she managed two annual dinners. One at noon and the other at night. On Thursday, a luncheon on 'Bootleg Sinners.' And a dinner on 'War . . . is it Right?'

'World Problems we Race' was her Friday noon date. A luncheon address as you guessed. And she wielded a fork, while a man from New York, Spoke that evening on 'Social Unrest.'

On Saturday noon, she fell in a swoon. Missed a talk on the 'Youth of our Land.' Poor thing . . . she was through. She never came to, But died with a spoon in her hand."

This exaggerated bit of nonsense has truth in it, and while most of us are not that busy, we all have days filled to the brim.

Some place along the line we hope you find time to do some shopping, if and when the collapse comes, it will be nice to pass out looking your best! We have a collection of fall clothes, that will take you to all the places. You will look like a picture of smartness, and no one will ever suspect that you did not have all the time in the world to plan your wardrobe.

Shop today . . . and we hope to be seeing you at The DEB SHOP.

Alabama Chief Ignores Pleas To Stay Out

Wallace's statement which called for peace and order was similar to one he issued before making a doorway stand against integration last June at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa. The governor yielded then only to federalized National Guardsmen.

Wallace said keeping the peace at Tuscaloosa "has gained us millions of converts over the nation."

"We must have no violence in our state if we are to continue successfully to win our battle against those who would destroy liberty and freedom in America," he said.

Huntsville, also scheduled to begin desegregation, acceded to Wallace's order not to start classes Tuesday.

There was a possibility that Tuskegee authorities would go into court to get their school open prior to the Monday date set by Wallace in an executive order delaying the opening.

The Justice Department, after Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his aides, issued this statement:

"As Gov. Wallace knows, the schools will be opened and the Negro students will attend them in accord with the orders of the courts."

"We hope it will be accomplished swiftly by the people of Alabama and their officials."

Sources said the Justice Department's position was one of watchful waiting. Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, civil rights trouble-shooter, returned to Washington after a quick trip to Birmingham.

The Birmingham Post-Herald said Wallace ordered his troopers in after Jefferson County (Birmingham) legislators met with the governor. The newspaper said informed sources reported that some legislators felt state police might be needed to meet possible trouble.

The City Council wired Wallace to keep the troopers out unless they were requested.

Outside of Alabama, racial barriers fell aside, quietly for the most part, as schools desegregated under court orders or voluntarily.

White pupils attended classes with 11 Negroes at four Charleston, S.C., high schools, but at one a false bomb report forced evacuation of about 500 white pupils and their two Negro classmates. Four parochial schools admitted 15 Negroes.

In Georgia, desegregation was expanded peacefully in Atlanta, where more than 150 Negro children enrolled at 11 white schools, and spread to other parts of the state unmarked by trouble.

Public schools admitted 14 Negroes in Savannah and five in Athens. Parochial schools desegregated in the Georgia cities of Valdosta, Savannah, Columbus and Albany.

Police stood watch in Baton Rouge, La., as 28 Negro children entered once-white high schools for the first time in the history of the state. There were two minor incidents. Integration was expanded in orderly fashion in New Orleans.

In Tallahassee, Fla., three Negroes attended a white high school without incident.

Elsewhere in Florida, Negroes attended white schools at Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Miami, bringing to 45 the number of integrated schools in the state. Eight counties were affected in all.

The number of Negro children attending integrated schools in Memphis, Tenn., was increased from 46 to 258. But the expanded desegregation almost was overshadowed by Negro pickets who urged students at five Negro schools to ignore staggered classroom hours.

In Surry County, Va., a private segregated school started classes after white teachers balked at teaching in schools ordered desegregated. What would happen to seven Negroes assigned to white public schools in the country was not indicated.

Elsewhere in Virginia, quiet desegregation came to a number of school systems including those of Martinsville and Radford and the counties of Prince George, Henrico, Albemarle, Dinwiddie, Charles City and Frederick.

Thirteen school districts in southern Kentucky admitted Negro pupils — one, at Bowling Green, under federal court orders. About 175 Negroes entered white schools there.

In two Kentucky districts, small Negro populations of school age were absorbed completely into white schools — 18 in Allen County and 22 in Edmonson.

Services available to communities through new hospital facilities and modern medical techniques will be reflected in a healthier people living in healthier communities in a healthier nation.

Job of Ferreting Out Crooked Cops Proves To Be Very Slow, Difficult

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In Denver, the scandal involved half a hundred policemen; in Chicago it was 10; in Burlington, Vt., it was 11.

The job of ferreting out policemen accused of turning into thieves instead of turning them in has been slow and difficult.

Last to join the list is Kansas City, Mo., where five policemen are charged with burglaries that netted less than $5,000. And Nassau County, Long Island, N.Y., has seven policemen under indictment.

Kansas City's police force still is undergoing a thorough self-search. In Denver, Chicago and Burlington time and effort have healed the scars and there is evidence that some good has come out of the problem.

CHICAGO — "The progress which has been made during the past 3½ years has been phenomenal," says Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission. "A very solid foundation has been laid upon which to build for the future. The commission feels that the law enforcement structure in Chicago at the present time indeed is encouraging."

DENVER — "There is lots of work to be done, but things seem to be working out well," says James Slavin, the police chief hired after the wholesale arrests of policemen in 1961. Slavin resigned immediately after a change of the Denver city administration and now is on the staff of Northwestern University.

BURLINGTON — "We've come up with some mighty good men," since hiring practices were tightened, says Police Chief Arthur J. Caron. He credits salary increases and more supervisory personnel for a new attitude in his department.

The police scandals in the four cities had remarkably similar patterns.

In Denver a patrolman was arrested in August 1960 on a charge of rifling the safe in a downtown cafe. Several more policemen were arrested in the next few months. A special investigator was appointed by the governor and in September 1961 more than 20 policemen were arrested in a single day. In all 50 policemen and ex-policemen were arrested and suspended. Thirty-two were convicted, five were acquitted, charges were dismissed against one and two still are to be tried.

The police chief, James E. Childers, resigned soon after the arrests, saying worry over the scandal had affected his health.

In Chicago, Richard Morrison, 23, a burglar, told the state's attorney in 1959, "My cop pals acted as lookouts." Ten policemen were charged with burglary or conspiracy or both. Orlando W. Wilson, a professor of criminology, was brought from California to head the department and he completely reorganized it.

The Burlington case broke in late 1961. It too, involved burglaries by department members. Five policemen were arrested over a five-month period and six others resigned. Chief Caron took over the 51-man department after the investigation.

In Kansas City, a 24-year-old patrolman directed attention to himself last July by discovering and reporting too many burglaries. Within six days, four more policemen — all members of the same platoon — and two civilians were arrested.

Police Chief Clarence M. Kelley, who took over the force two years ago after 20 years with the FBI, said repeatedly: "We will wash our own linen." The department is questioning all 890 members of the force.

Kansas City, Kan., also is in police turmoil. City officials are trying to find a successor to John J. Theroff, who resigned as police chief July 23 on demand of the state attorney general. The attorney general was investigating charges of five police officials of police brutality and laxity in enforcement of liquor and gambling laws.

In Nassau County, Long Island, seven county police officers were indicted Aug. 13 after an investigation of the looting of four stores of goods valued at $10,000. A police inspector was sent back to a desk job and a deputy inspector became a captain. Two lieutenants and five sergeants were transferred to other assignments. Two policemen are under suspension and the girl friends of seven officers indicted are charged with receiving stolen property. In adjoining Suffolk County, half a dozen policemen have been in trouble within the past three years and some of the cases still are pending.

In Chicago, Wilson instituted a number of drastic reforms including establishment of an internal investigations division "which conducts investigations of personnel with the view of maintaining high integrity and rigid discipline that are so essential if the force is to function efficiently."

As a result, the Crime Commission found in 1962, there was "tremendous improvement in the solution of major crime in Chicago in 1961."

Clinton Base To Be Scene Of Maneuvers

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Clinton County Air Force Base will be the center of operations here next week for the national reserve troop carrier competition involving 42 crews from 14 Air Force Reserve troop carrier wings.

Between 400 and 500 men are expected to participate in the maneuvers Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Day missions will be flown Monday and Wednesday and a night mission on Tuesday. All missions will go to Ft. Campbell, Ky., and then return here for grading.

The day mission on Monday calls for a low level flight at 500 to 1,500 feet for the dropping of heavy equipment. The night navigation mission Tuesday will be at a medium altitude of 1,500 to 2,500 feet and 340-pound bundles of equipment will be dropped.

The final mission on Wednesday will be for the dropping of parachutists in an accuracy competition.

Grading of the crews will be done here each night after the return of the planes and a final awards dinner will be held Wednesday night.

The 14 carrier wings are from all parts of the country. Thirteen of them, with five-man crews, will fly C119s and the other will fly C123s.

Alabama Chief Ignores Pleas To Stay Out

Wallace's statement which called for peace and order was similar to one he issued before making a doorway stand against integration last June at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa. The governor yielded then only to federalized National Guardsmen.

Wallace said keeping the peace at Tuscaloosa "has gained us millions of converts over the nation."

"We must have no violence in our state if we are to continue successfully to win our battle against those who would destroy liberty and freedom in America," he said.

Huntsville, also scheduled to begin desegregation, acceded to Wallace's order not to start classes Tuesday.

There was a possibility that Tuskegee authorities would go into court to get their school open prior to the Monday date set by Wallace in an executive order delaying the opening.

The Justice Department, after Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his aides, issued this statement:

"As Gov. Wallace knows, the schools will be opened and the Negro students will attend them in accord with the orders of the courts."

"We hope it will be accomplished swiftly by the people of Alabama and their officials."

Sources said the Justice Department's position was one of watchful waiting. Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, civil rights trouble-shooter, returned to Washington after a quick trip to Birmingham.

The Birmingham Post-Herald said Wallace ordered his troopers in after Jefferson County (Birmingham) legislators met with the governor. The newspaper said informed sources reported that some legislators felt state police might be needed to meet possible trouble.

The City Council wired Wallace to keep the troopers out unless they were requested.

Outside of Alabama, racial barriers fell aside, quietly for the most part, as schools desegregated under court orders or voluntarily.

White pupils attended classes with 11 Negroes at four Charleston, S.C., high schools, but at one a false bomb report forced evacuation of about 500 white pupils and their two Negro classmates. Four parochial schools admitted 15 Negroes.

In Georgia, desegregation was expanded peacefully in Atlanta, where more than 150 Negro children enrolled at 11 white schools, and spread to other parts of the state unmarked by trouble.

Public schools admitted 14 Negroes in Savannah and five in Athens. Parochial schools desegregated in the Georgia cities of Valdosta, Savannah, Columbus and Albany.

Police stood watch in Baton Rouge, La., as 28 Negro children entered once-white high schools for the first time in the history of the state. There were two minor incidents. Integration was expanded in orderly fashion in New Orleans.

In Tallahassee, Fla., three Negroes attended a white high school without incident.

Elsewhere in Florida, Negroes attended white schools at Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Miami, bringing to 45 the number of integrated schools in the state. Eight counties were affected in all.

The number of Negro children attending integrated schools in Memphis, Tenn., was increased from 46 to 258. But the expanded desegregation almost was overshadowed by Negro pickets who urged students at five Negro schools to ignore staggered classroom hours.

In Surry County, Va., a private segregated school started classes after white teachers balked at teaching in schools ordered desegregated. What would happen to seven Negroes assigned to white public schools in the country was not indicated.

Elsewhere in Virginia, quiet desegregation came to a number of school systems including those of Martinsville and Radford and the counties of Prince George, Henrico, Albemarle, Dinwiddie, Charles City and Frederick.

Thirteen school districts in southern Kentucky admitted Negro pupils — one, at Bowling Green, under federal court orders. About 175 Negroes entered white schools there.

In two Kentucky districts, small Negro populations of school age were absorbed completely into white schools — 18 in Allen County and 22 in Edmonson.

Services available to communities through new hospital facilities and modern medical techniques will be reflected in a healthier people living in healthier communities in a healthier nation.

Job of Ferreting Out Crooked Cops Proves To Be Very Slow, Difficult

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In Denver, the scandal involved half a hundred policemen; in Chicago it was 10; in Burlington, Vt., it was 11.

The job of ferreting out policemen accused of turning them in has been slow and difficult.

Last to join the list is Kansas City, Mo., where five policemen are charged with burglaries that netted less than $5,000. And Nassau County, Long Island, N.Y., has seven policemen under indictment.

Kansas City's police force still is undergoing a thorough self-search. In Denver, Chicago and Burlington time and effort have healed the scars and there is evidence that some good has come out of the problem.

CHICAGO — "The progress which has been made during the past 3½ years has been phenomenal," says Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission. "A very solid foundation has been laid upon which to build for the future. The commission feels that the law enforcement structure in Chicago at the present time indeed is encouraging."

DENVER — "There is lots of work to be done, but things seem to be working out well," says James Slavin, the police chief hired after the wholesale arrests of policemen in 1961. Slavin resigned immediately after a change of the Denver city administration and now is on the staff of Northwestern University.

BURLINGTON — "We've come up with some mighty good men," since hiring practices were tightened, says Police Chief Arthur J. Caron. He credits salary increases and more supervisory personnel for a new attitude in his department.

The police scandals in the four cities had remarkably similar patterns.

In Denver a patrolman was arrested in August 1960 on a charge of rifling the safe in a downtown cafe. Several more policemen were arrested in the next few months. A special investigator was appointed by the governor and in September 1961 more than 20 policemen were arrested in a single day. In all 50 policemen and ex-policemen were arrested and suspended. Thirty-two were convicted, five were acquitted, charges were dismissed against one and two still are to be tried.

The police chief, James E. Childers, resigned soon after the arrests, saying worry over the scandal had affected his health.

In Chicago, Richard Morrison, 23, a burglar, told the state's attorney in 1959, "My cop pals acted as lookouts." Ten policemen were charged with burglary or conspiracy or both. Orlando W. Wilson, a professor of criminology, was brought from California to head the department and he completely reorganized it.

The Burlington case broke in late 1961. It too, involved burglaries by department members. Five policemen were arrested over a five-month period and six others resigned. Chief Caron took over the 51-man department after the investigation.

Drama for City Divisions
CLEVELAND (AP) — Dramatic decals are used on many of the city's vehicles to illustrate their assignment.

Cleveland uses St. George slaying a dragon for the sewage disposal division, the Norse god Thor for the fight and power branch and a "big hand" for the water department, for example.

Law director Bronis J. Klementowicz ruled recently that such vehicles do not also have to be lettered with the city's name, remarking: "We don't want to make the city cars look like billboards."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A cold front pushed southward through Ohio Tuesday, causing scattered light showers over the northern two-thirds of the state and heavier rain near the Ohio River.

Piketon reported an inch of rain while Chesapeake had about four-tenths of an inch. Temperatures were in the 50s near Lake Erie early today and in the 60s elsewhere. At sunrise, Toledo reported 56, Columbus 64 and Chesapeake 69.

Today will be partly cloudy and cool. Scattered showers may move into the state again tonight and Thursday as a weak low pressure area approaches from the west.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS
SOUTHERN & CENTRAL
OHIO — Temperatures will average two to six degrees below normal. Normal high 78-84, normal low 56-61. Cooler Friday and Saturday, little daily change other times. Rainfall will average about one-half inch with scattered thunder showers tonight and Thursday, again about first of week.

Faint Comet Is Discovered Near Sun

GREENBELT, Md. (AP)—The Goddard Space Flight Center said today that a faint comet has been discovered near the sun.

The center said a Belgian astrophysicist, Dr. Francois V. Dossin of Liege, discovered the comet July 20 during the total eclipse of the sun.

The center, a part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said faint comets never before have been detected because the tremendous brilliance of the sun's visible disc prevented ground observation of the space near the sun where such comets brighten sufficiently to become visible.

"When the moon passed in front of the sun this summer, observations became possible to within a few degrees of the sun," Giddard said.

"Some scientists have theorized that there are many such faint comets as yet unseen to observers.

"If this is correct, the discovery will be an important contribution to the understanding of the comets and their role in formation of the solar system."

South Korea Junta Loses Backing

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Liberal Democratic party dropped its support of South Korea's ruling military junta today with two bold challenges to the junta chairman, Gen. Chung Hee Park.

Liberal Democrats, meeting in a national convention, refused to merge with Park's Democratic Republican party for the Oct. 15 presidential election.

They also elected former Premier Yo-Chan (Tiger) Song to the party's 5-man council, stirring speculation that he might receive the presidential nomination. Song, an outspoken critic of Park, is awaiting trial on several charges, including slandering the government.

Hollywood Circa 1930 Not Wild Place, Veteran Actor Recalls

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Was Hollywood really a wild, wild place in the days of the early talkies? "Not really," says Lee Tracy himself a legendary figure from that era. "The orgies were over by the time I got here in 1930. Sound had everybody scared. Careers could be ruined if the word got around that an actor or director or producer couldn't cope with sound."

Tracy, whose fast-talking style

epitomized the breezy spirit of the talkies, is back in his old stamping grounds for his first movie in 16 years. He's re-creating his stage role of the ex-president in "The Best Man."

They'll have to whiten his hair to play the part because Tracy, at 65, doesn't look old enough to have spent a term or two in the White House.

Tracy looks back with fondness on the era of the 30s.

"I remember complaining because my income tax was $4,000 one year," he mused. "Once my banker called me up and said 'it's none of my business, but I thought you ought to know that you've got $50,000 in your checking account.' I had just let it accumulate."

But Tracy was sage enough to set some of his earnings aside. He bought chancy stocks like General Motors and AT&T and invested in California real estate.

Tracy was part of the mass emigration of Broadway actors who replaced the silent screen stars. He was signed by Fox, did one movie and then was allowed to remain idle.

"The studio was afraid to take a chance on some of us," he recalled. "Other studios would take an actor like Robert Montgomery and put him in a couple of pictures to give him a buildup. Then he'd be a star."

"But Fox wouldn't gamble. I remember Paul Muni and I would meet every Wednesday at the Knickerbocker hotel where we were staying. We'd walk to the Fox studio on Western Avenue, complaining all the way. Then we'd pick up our checks — mine was $1,500 — and walk back to the hotel, still complaining because the studio wouldn't put us to work."

Tracy finally got a chance to show his stuff in "Blessed Event" at Warners and his career flourished. In recent years he has devoted himself to Broadway and television.

Russia Renews Nuclear Pledge to Red China

TOKYO (AP)—The Soviet Union told Communist China Tuesday there was no need for it to try to manufacture an atom bomb because if attacked it could count on Russian nuclear might under the friendship and mutual assistance treaty.

In a Japanese language broadcast, Moscow Radio reiterated that despite Chinese-Soviet differences, the treaty remains in effect.

Pope Paul Works On New Encyclical

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Word in Vatican circles that Pope Paul VI is working on his first encyclical brought speculation that it may set the mood of his entire reign. This was the case in the first letter of Pope John XXIII in 1959.

The encyclical is said to be on the relationship between the Christian truths and the scientific-intellectual concepts of modern culture. The encyclical—a letter to all Roman Catholic bishops—is not expected to be released before November or December.

Some here see special importance attached by the Vatican to the Pope's address last Sunday on the need of laymen to make Christianity valid. They suggest that an encyclical on modern culture might focus the reign of Paul as one of dedication to Christian laymen.

PETIT MAL—GRAND MAL

Q. Is petit mal a chronic condition? Is there any connection between petit mal and grand mal?

A. Petit mal and grand mal are different forms of epilepsy. Both may occur in the same patient but one does not necessarily lead to the other. Epilepsy of either type is a chronic condition which can be controlled but for which there is no cure.

DOUCHING

Q. Should unmarried women take douches and if so, how often? Also, should they use tampons?

A. Unless there is some medical reason for doing so, regular douching is unnecessary. Many women have the mistaken idea that douching is essential to cleanliness when in fact, the healthy vagina does not require frequent mechanical cleansing. The internal type of absorbent is quite satisfactory for women—married or single—who prefer this type.

Terry Kifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kifer, 234 Cedar Heights Road, is visiting his family and friends during a leave following graduation from Air Police Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Kifer is scheduled to leave Sept. 25 for duty with the USAF in England.

Hollywood Circa 1930 Not Wild Place, Veteran Actor Recalls

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Was Hollywood really a wild, wild place in the days of the early talkies? "Not really," says Lee Tracy himself a legendary figure from that era. "The orgies were over by the time I got here in 1930. Sound had everybody scared. Careers could be ruined if the word got around that an actor or director or producer couldn't cope with sound."

Tracy, whose fast-talking style

epitomized the breezy spirit of the talkies, is back in his old stamping grounds for his first movie in 16 years. He's re-creating his stage role of the ex-president in "The Best Man."

They'll have to whiten his hair to play the part because Tracy, at 65, doesn't look old enough to have spent a term or two in the White House.

Tracy looks back with fondness on the era of the 30s.

"I remember complaining because my income tax was $4,000 one year," he mused. "Once my banker called me up and said 'it's none of my business, but I thought you ought to know that you've got $50,000 in your checking account.' I had just let it accumulate."

But Tracy was sage enough to set some of his earnings aside. He bought chance stocks like General Motors and AT&T and invested in California real estate.

Tracy was part of the mass emigration of Broadway actors who replaced the silent screen stars. He was signed by Fox, did one movie and then was allowed to remain idle.

"The studio was afraid to take a chance on some of us," he recalled. "Other studios would take an actor like Robert Montgomery and put him in a couple of pictures to give him a buildup. Then he'd be a star."

"But Fox wouldn't gamble. I remember Paul Muni and I would meet every Wednesday at the Knickerbocker hotel where we were staying. We'd walk to the Fox studio on Western Avenue, complaining all the way. Then we'd pick up our checks — mine was $1,500 — and walk back to the hotel, still complaining because the studio wouldn't put us to work."

Tracy finally got a chance to show his stuff in "Blessed Event" at Warners and his career flourished. In recent years he has devoted himself to Broadway and television.

Russia Renews Nuclear Pledge to Red China

TOKYO (AP)—The Soviet Union told Communist China Tuesday there was no need for it to try to manufacture an atom bomb because if attacked it could count on Russian nuclear might under the friendship and mutual assistance treaty.

In a Japanese language broadcast, Moscow Radio reiterated that despite Chinese-Soviet differences, the treaty remains in effect.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 4, the 247th day of 1963. There are 118 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1886, Apache Indians led by chief Geronimo surrendered to Gen. Nelson Miles at Skeleton Canyon, Ariz., ending the last important Indian disturbance in U.S. history.

On this date in 1781, Los Angeles, Calif., was founded.

In 1870, the Empress Eugenie took refuge from a mob in the Paris home of an American dentist, Thomas Evans, and later escaped to England disguised in Mrs. Evans' clothes.

In 1951, the first coast-to-coast television broadcast was made when President Harry Truman spoke in San Francisco at the Japanese peace treaty conference.

Ten years ago ... The highest ranking Army officer captured by the Communists during the Korean War — Maj. Gen. William Dean — was released after more than 37 months in North Korean prisons.

Five years ago ... The Justice Department invoked the civil rights act of 1957 for the first time to stop alleged violations of Negro voting rights in Georgia.

One year ago ... President Kennedy declared that Cuba Premier Fidel Castro's military strength had been bolstered by deliveries of Russian equipment.

Pope Paul Works On New Encyclical

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Word in Vatican circles that Pope Paul VI is working on his first encyclical brought speculation that it may set the mood of his entire reign. This was the case in the first letter of Pope John XXIII in 1959.

The encyclical is said to be on the relationship between the Christian truths and the scientific-intellectual concepts of modern culture. The encyclical—a letter to all Roman Catholic bishops—is not expected to be released before November or December.

Some here see special importance attached by the Vatican to the Pope's address last Sunday on the need of laymen to make Christianity valid. They suggest that an encyclical on modern culture might focus the reign of Paul as one of dedication to Christian laymen.

Faint Comet Is Discovered Near Sun

GREENBELT, Md. (AP)—The Goddard Space Flight Center said today that a faint comet has been discovered near the sun.

The center said a Belgian astrophysicist, Dr. Francois V. Dossin of Liege, discovered the comet July 20 during the total eclipse of the sun.

The center, a part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said faint comets never before have been detected because the tremendous brilliance of the sun's visible disc prevented ground observation of the space near the sun where such comets brighten sufficiently to become visible.

"When the moon passed in front of the sun this summer, observations became possible to within a few degrees of the sun," Giddard said.

"Some scientists have theorized that there are many such faint comets as yet unseen to observers."

"If this is correct, the discovery will be an important contribution to the understanding of the comets and their role in formation of the solar system."

South Korea Junta Loses Backing

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Liberal Democratic party dropped its support of South Korea's ruling military junta today with two bold challenges to the junta chairman, Gen. Chung Hee Park.

Liberal Democrats, meeting in a national convention, refused to merge with Park's Democratic Republican party for the Oct. 15 presidential election.

They also elected former Premier Yo-Chan (Tiger) Song to the party's 5-man council, stirring speculation that he might receive the presidential nomination. Song, an outspoken critic of Park, is awaiting trial on several charges, including slandering the government.

PETIT MAL — GRAND MAL

Q. Is petit mal a chronic condition? Is there any connection between petit mal and grand mal?

A. Petit mal and grand mal are different forms of epilepsy. Both may occur in the same patient but one does not necessarily lead to the other. Epilepsy of either type is a chronic condition which can be controlled but for which there is no cure.

DOUCHING

Q. Should unmarried women take douches and if so, how often? Also, should they use tampons?

A. Unless there is some medical reason for doing so, regular douching is unnecessary. Many women have the mistaken idea that douching is essential to cleanliness when in fact, the healthy vagina does not require frequent mechanical cleansing. The internal type of absorbent is quite satisfactory for women—married or single—who prefer this type.

Space Bathtub Flies Just Fine

Re-Entry Vehicle Gets Public Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A strange craft that looks like a bathtub and is designed to return men from space flew successfully Tuesday.

It was quite a trick, as it has no wings.

The 20-by-30-foot vehicle was twice towed to 13,000 feet by a B47 and each time space agency pilot Milton O. Thompson glided it in for a landing.

It's able to glide because its broad rounded undersurface provides "lift" like an airplane's wings.

The craft, called the M2 because it is the second of several shapes tested as possible atmospheric re-entry vehicles, has a rounded nose and a square stern. It is controlled by twin fins at the stern.

Thompson, 36, recently assigned to the X15 rocket plane and upcoming X20 Dyna-Soar programs, has been testing the M2 for some time. This was the first public flight.

Ground observers held their breath as the 1,000-foot tow cable was detached for the first time. Some obviously felt the M2 would fall like a brick, which it roughly resembles.

But Thompson spiraled it down for a smooth landing after a three-minute flight. The craft has a window on the underside of the nose for downward vision.

Unwise Policies In Government Are Criticized

Here's just a small example of why it behooves the American taxpayer to oppose the ever-increasing expansion of government.

Government is too big now, and as it expands, not only do your privileges and rights diminish, but so diminishes the value of your tax dollars. As government expands, the opportunities for waste expand proportionately. Here's what I mean:

The Defense Department brought 47 radar predictors from Great Britain for a total expenditure of $2,145,739.60, plus shipping charges to the United States.

After we had them here, the Department decided it did not need them after all. They were declared surplus and sold to the British producer for $114,500. They had never been uncrated. The British producer then sold them to the Government of Portugal for $493,500, and Portugal paid for them with United States foreign aid funds.

Now, Portugal has 47 radar predictors, the British manufacturer has $2,524,739.60, and you and I are the same amount poorer because someone in the Pentagon could not predict our predictor requirements.

Ohio Turnpike Speed Limit To Be Boosted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In about four weeks, the passenger automobile speed limit on the Ohio Turnpike will go up from 65 to 70 miles per hour.

That was decided at today's Turnpike Commission meeting. The change will be effective Sept. 30, the same date as a new state law making 70 m.p.h. maximum legal speed on freeways outside municipal corporations.

Under the same unanimously adopted resolution, the speed limit on the toll road for commercial passenger buses remains at 65, and that for trucks at 55. The resolution sets the limit for school buses—not specifically set apart before—at 50 m.p.h.

The commission also agreed to do away with extra-cost permits for fire engines and buses being delivered via the Turnpike.

James W. Shocknessy, commission chairman, also conducted an earlier meeting today on progress of Interstate 71, the north-south freeway for which he is Gov. James A. Rhodes' "expeditor."

Shocknessy said he is "enormously pleased with progress."

Noting a statement from the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads' local and regional offices that federal aid will not be possible for both the U.S. 42 and Turnpike interchanges of Interstate 71 in northern Ohio, Shocknessy said there still is a good chance something can be worked out.

The commission meets again Oct. 1 in Columbus to consider its calendar 1964 budget.

The Ashville Community Club met Aug. 26 in the park shelter house with Roland Featheringham, president, presiding over the business meeting.

Larry Priest, member of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the club in behalf of the coming special election for a proposed tax levy for expansion of Berger Hospital.

He asked that the club back the levy and support it in the Ashville community. The club decided not to support and back this levy.

Virgil Walden was appointed to construct a sample string of lights that could be used for Christmas street decorating in the downtown district. He will display these at the September meeting at which time the club will view them and decide on purchasing additional strands.

Ways of showing improvement on next year's 4th of July celebration was discussed and club members were asked for suggestions how it may be improved next year. It was suggested that the open shelter house be used for Bingo rather than the dance, since the dance is a non-profit concession. A further study will be made of this proposed change.

The club gave a donation to the Ashville - Harrison Volunteer Fire Department and to a needy citizen for dental work.

The following committee was appointed by Featheringham to submit a new slate of officers for the coming year: Wade Carter, William Fortner and Steve Cook.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The refreshment committee for September will be Dale Schiff and Paul Welsh.

The Teays Valley High School football team will begin their 1963 schedule with the first game slated for this Friday evening when they meet Amanda-Clearcreek at Amanda. Game time is 8 p. m.

A meeting of the K of P bowling committee was held recently in the Ed Irwin Insurance Office to set up rules for the 1963-64 bowling season and to name team members and their sponsors.

The 1963-64 K of P bowling League got underway Tuesday evening August 27. The team will bowl five rounds of seven games each, ending May 5. There will be no bowling on December 24 and December 31. A league trophy will be given to the team having the most points at the end of the season. The bowling banquet will be held May 12.

The teams were drawn in groups of eight, according to bowlers' average at the end of last season. They are as follows: Ashville IGA — Archie Stewart, Robert Courtright, Paul Kuhlwein, John Little, Frank Hudson and Robert Barr, Bastian Funeral Home — Robert Johnson, Ray Badger, Jim Irwin, Vaughn Herdman, Jim Courtright and Warren Bastian; Brown Implement Company — Chester Peters, Robert Glick, Warren Brown, Charles Hines, Harold Pardee and Don Quillen; Citizen's Bank — Richard Bumgarner, Robert Vince, Joe Vause, Everett Seeds, Bill Wharton and Harry Sark.

Fortner's Service — Ray Lindsey, Luther Speakman, Clyde Speakman, Bill Fortner, David Hedges, and Joe Kennedy; Funk's Hybrids — Doyle Calvert, Neil Barr, Gene Tosca, John Moss, Bill Winter and Joe Hedges; Hedges' Hybrids — Don Hedges, Ralph Cummins, Charles Moss, Harry Rife, Ralph Peters and Hewitt Cromley; Irwin Insurance — Carl Bumgarner, Dale Schiff, Steve Cook, Jake Cline and Ed Irwin.

A fire-run was made by the Ashville - Harrison Volunteer Fire Department Sunday morning at 5:15 a. m. to 43½ Jefferson Ave. when an air conditioner in a trailer owned by Bud Fout was ignited by faulty wiring.

Damages were listed at $400 to the trailer and $150 to the air conditioner.

The Ashville Volunteer Fireman, on the completion of their new addition to the firehouse, showed much pride at their open-house and dedication Sunday afternoon.

An estimated 200 persons viewed the new addition and were served fire-engine red punch and cookies from a beautifully decorated tea table, centered with a floral arrangement, in the new communications and meeting room.

At 2:30 p. m. the Rev. John Morgan conducted a brief service dedicating the building to the community and unveiling a walnut plaque in memory of the late fire chief, Ed Cummins. The plaque will remain in the newly dedicated edition.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sampson were hosts to a family dinner Sunday at their home in honor of Mrs. Sampson's sister, Mrs. W. C. Boyce, and her family, who are departing Sept. 9 to join her husband who is stationed in Germany.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Norris and Terri; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fromell and Phil; Mrs. Boyce, Terry and Belinda and Nancy and Tom Sampson.

The First English Lutheran Church will be conducting their first class of instruction on Saturday, September 14 at 9:30 a. m. All those who are to take instruction should be present for the first meeting. Children 12 years old and over entering the seventh grade should begin instruction this year.

The Bastian Funeral Home reported the following ambulance runs this past week: Tuesday Aug. 27, took Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baum to doctor's office and returned them home; Wednesday, Aug. 28 returned Mrs. Hal Richard and baby daughter home from Mt. Carmel Hospital; Thursday, Aug. 29 took Homer Bausum to Berger Hospital, following a heart attack; Friday, Aug. 30, took Glen Rinehart of South Bloomfield, to Mercy Hospital, following an apparent heart attack, and Tuesday, Sept. 3, returned Mrs. Harold Od after home from Riverside Methodist Hospital where she had undergone surgery on Wednesday.

The Rev. William Sherertz, pastor of the Ashville and Hedges Chapel Methodist Churches, is attending Pastor's School at Delaware through tomorrow.

Mrs. Howard Hosler underwent an emergency appendectomy Tuesday, Aug. 27 at Mercy Hospital. She was returned home this weekend making a nice recovery.

Mrs. Jessie Buskirk is confined to Doctor's Hospital where she underwent surgery on Friday of last week.

Movie Giants Irk Bette Davis

Actress Is Labeled As sams Box Office

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Oh, they simply kill me," said Bette Davis with a wicked glint in her eye.

"They" were the movie industry giants who decide what pictures will be made and determine which stars will be hired. Their judgments can be harsh — and wrong.

"They couldn't understand the success of Joan's (Crawford) and my picture, 'Baby Jane,'" Bette said. "It had to be a freak. After all, it was a strange story, and it was made by a maverick, Robert Aldrich, at a funny little studio with a four-week schedule."

"Even after 'Baby Jane,' Ralph Nelson was crazy to have me do 'Lilies of the Field' and he flew to New York to try to talk United Artists into it. No, they wouldn't go for it. I wasn't box office. 'Baby Jane' was a freak. Haw!"

Bette can laugh. Her old boss, J.L. Warner, brought her back to Burbank for two of the juiciest parts any actress has had recently. She plays twin sisters in "Dead Ringer," one murdering the other.

Bette's comment: "If this picture is a success, then and only then will 'they' admit that I had made it. After all, this one is being filmed on a major lot with a good budget and an eight-week schedule. It's 'respectable.'"

"Oh, if they would only learn! It's still names that sell movies—names that have established a reputation with the public by past performances. Those are the ones who sell tickets, not the so-called names who are used in picture after picture even though they can't draw flies at the box office."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor has told senators the Joint Chiefs of Staff assumed, in supporting the limited nuclear test ban treaty, that the Russians "would attempt clandestine testing of some sort."

This was disclosed today when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public heavily censored testimony taken behind closed doors from Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff.

Taylor testified he thought the temptation to cheat would be in atmospheric tests of small tactical weapons or other small tests that would be difficult to detect and from which information could be gained to apply to antimissile missiles.

"But it is in this field that you feel we are very well prepared ourselves, is it not?" asked Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman.

"Well," Taylor replied, "it is in this field where I don't think the gains that might come from this kind of testing would have any great bearing upon our relative position."

The treaty, approved by the committee last week by a 16-1 vote, would ban nuclear tests in the atmosphere, in space and under water but not under ground.

Youth Commission Roster Completed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The recently created Ohio Youth Commission, due to begin its official duties Oct. 7, is now at full strength.

William Willis, 42, assistant recreation commissioner of Cleveland, was appointed to the commission Tuesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes. He joins Judge Wayne Fogle of Columbus and Charles L. Harrison, former assistant superintendent of the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, on the three-man commission. Judge Fogle is chairman.

Willis, a Negro, played football at Ohio State University and for the professional Cleveland Browns. He is a graduate of Ohio State.

He will be in charge of the commission's Correctional Division and receive a salary of $14,000 a year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A St. Louis, Mo., model holds a new fuel pump made of plastic by the Carter carburetor division of ACF Industries for use in small, gasoline engines in lawn mowers, chain saws and the like. Tests have shown the little pump (shown side view) has a reserve capacity for pumping up to four times the volume of gasoline required in normal usage, in temperatures to 20 degrees below zero.

"We will have to wait for an answer from Council whether Shakespeare is to be or not to be," said Fairgrieve.

"Me thinks there is something rotten in Denmark," was the rejoinder from Councilman George J. Usher. He said he questioned the school board's underwriting of the festival by providing free rent in return for free admission of Lakewood students to the plays.

The festival needs $5,000 from the city to meet expenses. It had a $20,000 deficit in its first year in 1962.

Business-Education Day Gets Okay of Chamber Officials

A varied agenda, including passage of a motion for a Business-Industry-Education Day in this community, received the attention of Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce officers and directors during yesterday's regular noon session.

The local body officially endorsed the Pickaway County Community Fund for 1963-64. Also gaining approval was the establishment of a Chamber fund to be used by Ned Harden, representing the Chamber on the Regional Planning Commission here.

No action was taken on a move to endorse a newspaper public opinion poll designed to measure interest in establishing an indoor theater in the city.

Date for the first Business-Industry-Education Day has been set for Mar. 13, 1964. According to L. D. Varble, committee chairman, the date has been included in the calendar for Circleville schools and it is hoped county schools will join in the program, designed to enlighten school teachers and administrators on local free enterprise in business and industry.

THE PROGRAM idea will be presented to county school executives and principals at their Oct. 3 meeting.

Without formulating specific programs, here is the suggested procedure as outlined by Varble: assembly at Circleville High School for briefing of all teachers; move to plants and business establishments for tours; lunch and then afternoon sessions on free enterprise here and a question and answer period.

Varble said teachers would be asked in advance to list their preferences for visiting either industry or business (limited to type, not specific business). Assignments would be made in advance followed by a personal letters of invitations from businessmen involved. Further plans will be outlined when Varble's committee meets Sept. 10.

In other business, president David Yates appointed a nominating committee for the coming term. It will consist of Charles Schieber, chairman, Dr. David Goldschmidt, Nat Lefko, Paul Smallwood, Dale DeLong, Mrs. E. R. Bennett and Yates. A motion also was carried providing that a director may not succeed himself. A change in the constitution to this effect will be made if necessary.

Dan Crabtree, chairman of the general membership meeting scheduled Oct. 29, reported the event will be conducted at the 4-H and Grange Building. Before dinner organ music will be provided and Baron Holl, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker.

Charles Allton, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, discussed organization signs tentatively to be placed along four entrances to Circleville. He is scheduled to gather more facts on the project.

NEGRO-BARBER CASE To Be Appealed

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — John Duda, attorney representing Yellow Springs Negro Paul Graham, says he will ask the 2nd District Court of Appeals to hear Graham's case as soon as possible.

Graham is appealing a May 3 decision which struck down sections of the state Public Accommodations Act applying to barber shops.

A Common Pleas Court judge ruled then that it was unconstitutional to force barbers to cut the hair of Negroes if they don't know how. Graham had charged Lewis Gegner, Yellow Springs barber, with discrimination.

County School, Law Officials Urge Motorists To Be Cautious

With the beginning of school, Pickaway County School and law enforcement officials urge motorists to exercise extreme caution in school zones and when approaching buses.

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton Spangler, reported one motorist has already been arrested for passing a bus stopped to receive children.

"We will do all that is necessary to insure the safety and well being of our school children," Sheriff Spangler said yesterday. "And all motorists charged with traffic violations such as passing buses or speeding in school zones will be apprehended and prosecuted."

George McDowell, superintendent of county schools, pointed out that a motorist passing a bus receiving or discharging school children, may be arrested and prosecuted on positive identification by the bus driver. He also noted that all drivers were instructed to report all such instances.

HE POINTED out the section of the Ohio Revised Code applying to passing buses which states: "The drivers of all vehicles outside the limits of a municipal corporation, upon meeting or overtaking from either direction, a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge a child, shall stop not less than ten feet from such bus."

Motorists may not proceed until the bus resumes motion or until signaled to pass by the driver.

The county superintendent pointed out that bus drivers may not start after discharging a pupil until that pupil has reached a place of safety on his or her residence side of the road.

Where a highway has been divided into two roadways, a driver of a vehicle approaching a bus in the opposite lane of traffic need not stop according to the Ohio Code. However motorists traveling in the same direction must stop.

McDowell pointed out that buses operating on divided highways or on highways with four or more traffic lanes must receive and discharge all school children on their residence side of the highway.

HE NOTED the only road in the county affected by the section pertaining to divided highways is Route 23.

In connection with the opening of schools throughout the state, Governor James Rhodes has proclaimed the week Sept. 4-11 as Child Safety Week.

In his proclamation the Governor notes the presence of thousands of Ohio children enroute to and from school increased the need for motorists to be constantly alert.

He urges all citizens to cooperate in every way to make streets and highways safe for school children.

The Bastian Funeral Home reported the following ambulance runs this past week: Tuesday, Aug. 27, took Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baum to doctor's office and returned them home; Wednesday, Aug. 28, returned Mrs. Hal Richard and baby daughter home from Mt. Carmel Hospital; Thursday, Aug. 29, took Homer Baum to Berger Hospital, following a heart attack; Friday, Aug. 30, took Glen Rinehart of South Bloomfield, to Mercy Hospital, following an apparent heart attack, and Tuesday, Sept. 3, returned Mrs. Harold Od after home from Riverside Methodist Hospital where she had undergone surgery on Wednesday.

The Rev. William Sherertz, pastor of the Ashville and Hedges Chapel Methodist Churches, is attending Pastor's School at Delaware through tomorrow.

Mrs. Howard Hosler underwent an emergency appendectomy Tuesday, Aug. 27 at Mercy Hospital. She was returned home this weekend making a nice recovery.

Mrs. Jessie Buskirk is confined to Doctor's Hospital where she underwent surgery on Friday of last week.

Movie Giants Irk Bette Davis

Actress Is Labeled As sams Box Office

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Oh, they simply kill me," said Bette Davis with a wicked glint in her eye.

"They" were the movie industry giants who decide what pictures will be made and determine which stars will be hired. Their judgments can be harsh — and wrong.

"They couldn't understand the success of Joan's (Crawford) and my picture, 'Baby Jane'." Bette said. "It had to be a freak. After all, it was a strange story, and it was made by a maverick, Robert Aldrich, at a funny little studio with a four-week schedule."

"Even after 'Baby Jane,' Ralph Nelson was crazy to have me do 'Lilies of the Field' and he flew to New York to try to talk United Artists into it. No, they wouldn't go for it. I wasn't box office. 'Baby Jane' was a freak. How!"

Bette can laugh. Her old boss, J.L. Warner, brought her back to Burbank for two of the juiciest parts any actress has had recently. She plays twin sisters in "Dead Ringer," one murdering the other.

Bette's comment: "If this picture is a success, then and only then will 'they' admit that I had made it. After all, this one is being filmed on a major lot with a good budget and an eight-week schedule. It's 'respectable.'"

"Oh, if they would only learn! It's still names that sell movies—names that have established a reputation with the public by past performances. Those are the ones who sell tickets, not the so-called names who are used in picture after picture even though they can't draw flies at the box office."

Business-Education Day Gets Okay of Chamber Officials

A varied agenda, including passage of a motion for a Business-Industry-Education Day in this community, received the attention of Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce officers and directors during yesterday's regular noon session.

The local body officially endorsed the Pickaway County Community Fund for 1963-64. Also gaining approval was the establishment of a Chamber fund to be used by Ned Harden, representing the Chamber on the Regional Planning Commission here.

No action was taken on a move to endorse a newspaper public opinion poll designed to measure interest in establishing an indoor theater in the city.

Date for the first Business-Industry-Education Day has been set for Mar. 13, 1964. According to L. D. Varble, committee chairman, the date has been included in the calendar for Circleville schools and it is hoped county schools will join in the program, designed to enlighten school teachers and administrators on local free enterprise in business and industry.

THE PROGRAM idea will be presented to county school executives and principals at their Oct. 3 meeting.

Without formulating specific programs, here is the suggested procedure as outlined by Varble: assembly at Circleville High School for briefing of all teachers; move to plants and business establishments for tours; lunch and then afternoon sessions on free enterprise here and a question and answer period.

Varble said teachers would be asked in advance to list their preferences for visiting either industry or business (limited to type, not specific business). Assignments would be made in advance followed by a personal letters of invitations from businessmen in involved. Further plans will be outlined when Varble's committee meets Sept. 10.

In other business, president David Yates appointed a nominating committee for the coming term. It will consist of Charles Schieber, chairman, Dr. David Goldschmidt, Nat Lefko, Paul Smallwood, Dale DeLong, Mrs. E. R. Bennett and Yates. A motion also was carried providing that a director may not succeed himself. A change in the constitution to this effect will be made if necessary.

Dan Crabtree, chairman of the general membership meeting scheduled Oct. 29, reported the event will be conducted at the 4-H and Grange Building. Before dinner organ music will be provided and Baron Holl, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker.

Charles Allton, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, discussed organization signs tentatively to be placed along four entrances to Circleville. He is scheduled to gather more facts on the project.

William Willis, 42, assistant recreation commissioner of Cleveland, was appointed to the commission Tuesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes. He joins Judge Wayne Fogle of Columbus and Charles L. Harrison, former assistant superintendent of the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, on the three-man commission. Judge Fogle is chairman.

Willis, a Negro, played football at Ohio State University and for the professional Cleveland Browns. He is a graduate of Ohio State.

He will be in charge of the commission's Correctional Division and receive a salary of $14,000 a year.

Youth Accentuates PCC Championship

Bette Frazer and Bruce Helwag, a pair of comparative youngsters, won the Pickaway Country Club championships Monday.

Helwag is the youngest club champion in the men's division according to PCC Pro Tom Cassady. A 17-year-old Circleville High School senior, he was a member of the state runnerup high school golf team this spring.

He defeated Brent Bell 2 and 1 to gain the honors in a match that was even all the way.

On the first round he shot a 74 while Bell finished with a 78. Helwag's score went up to an 80 on the second round of the 36 hole playoff while Bell carded a 79.

BETTE FRASER, a sophomore in college, started strong in her division, winning three of the first four holes from Joanne York. However, at the end of nine, Joanne had evened the count and was three up at the end of 12.

Bette parred out on the last six holes, shooting a 39 for the second nine, one of the best scores carded for women at the PCC this year.

She won the match one up on the 18th hole. Joanne had a 46 on the front nine and a 41 on the back side while Bette's first round total was 44.

Winning the first flight in the ladies' event was Peg Mason who downed Mary Lou Vaughan. Martha Mary Bowers beat Mary Eaton to win the second flight.

In the first flight of the men's division, Tim Dickinson beat Steve Helwag. Jim Dancy beat Carl Heffelfinger to cop the second flight while C. H. Bradshaw downed Bobby Wellington in the third flight.

Best scores for the year were reported by Marsha Moore, who had a 58 and by Dr. J. M. Hedges with a 44.

68 Junior High Grid Candidates Take Physicals

Circleville Junior High School football coach Jim Shaw said today that a total of 68 youngsters reported for physicals yesterday.

It is the largest junior high group reporting for several years according to Shaw, who termed the turnout, "encouraging."

"We'll be screaming for equipment," Shaw said. He reported that only about 36 uniforms are currently available.

Initial practice sessions are scheduled to begin 3:15 p. m. tomorrow at the South Court practice field.

HE INDICATED that physical fitness tests to eliminate some of the prospects may be necessary.

Helping Shaw with the junior high will again be Jim Schultz and Ralph Starkey.

Shaw said the larger turnout will put the pressure on the individual candidates to really work to gain and hold a position on the team.

Physical examination cards may be picked up from Shaw until Friday morning.

Returnees will be issued equipment tonight.

Gridder Given Second Chance

Minnesota Star QB
Picked Up by Toronto

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lee Grosscup got the ax and Sandy Stephens got a second chance.

The two quarterbacks were the key figures in separate professional football maneuvers in the United States and Canada Tuesday: Grosscup being dropped in a mandatory cut by the National and American Football Leagues, and Stephens being claimed for a paltry $350.

Grosscup, a former reserve quarterback for the New York Giants and Minnesota Vikings of the NFL, was lopped off the roster of the rebuilding New York Jets of the American Football League.

Stephens, All-America at Minnesota in 1961, was claimed on waivers by Toronto of the Canadian Football League with the waiver price of $350 going to Montreal, the team that suspended him last week.

Otherwise, veteran linemen and a flock of rookies were the chief targets of the paring knives as the NFL cut to 40 players and the AFL to 33.

The articulate Grosscup, an outstanding passer in his college days at Utah, came to the Giants in 1959 as their top draft choice. He spent three seasons with the Giants, almost all of it on his own special folding camp chair.

He was traded to Minnesota a year ago, released by the Vikings and signed by the then New York Titans, forerunner of the Jets. He had a brief, outstanding career with the AFL team before being sidelined by a knee injury.

Stephens was one of the most widely sought players in the country when he signed a three-year, no-out contract, reportedly for $70,000, with the Montreal Alouettes in 1962.

He was unimpressive in his rookie season with the Alouettes and in the AL's first two games this season. He was benched for being overweight two weeks ago, suspended last week and placed on waivers Tuesday.

Syracuse, Indians Vie for IL Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Indianapolis, winner of the International League's Southern Division championship, takes on Northern Division winner Syracuse in a drive for the pennant tonight.

The Indians won the division title Tuesday night by beating Atlanta 1-0 in a sudden-death, one-game playoff.

The playoffs begin tonight. Syracuse plays at Indianapolis in the first of a best four-of-seven for the pennant. The Northern Division second-place team, Toronto, plays at Atlanta in the first of another best-four-of-seven.

The winners of the series will play another best four-of-seven for the Governor's Cup.

TIGERS — The Circleville High School football team opens the 1963 season Friday when the Olenfanty Braves invade the Tiger athletic field. Here are the grid candidates: First row, left to right: Jim Barr, Tom Copland, Gary Betts, Bruce Horn, Jim McCoskey, John Hatcher, Howard Fletcher, Duke Fyffe, Joe List, Bob Purcell, Dave Bass, Tom Tootle, Junior Tootle, Doug Kiser, John Pharr. Second row, Steve Thomerson, Chet Hill, Don Fausnaugh, Jeff Ankrom, Gene Smith, Jim Starkey, Jack Martin, Steve Bowers, Ed Smith, Mick Tomlinson, Mansil Hurlburt, Rich Samuels, Jim Montgomery. Circleville Tigers Prepare For Opening Game Friday

At 8 p. m. Friday the 1963 football season opens for Circleville High School gridgers and their fans.

At that time, The Tigers take to the field against the Olenfanty Braves, a team they defeated by a walloping 42-0 score last year.

Olenfanty is a member of the Mid Ohio League. And right now that is about all that is known by the Circleville coaching staff about the invaders.

"We'll be going into this game cold turkey," Coach Paul Starr said early today. "They have changed coaches and in spite of everything we have tried we just can't find out a thing about them."

CONSEQUENTLY, Starr reports the staff has no idea what kind of football they will have to play Friday.

Last year the Brave Roster listed nine seniors, 12 juniors and eight sophomores, indicating they should have a fairly experienced unit returning. Last year the Tigers traveled to the Delaware Coun-

Connolly Joins Browns List As Lineman

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns must cut another player from their roster today when offensive lineman Ted Connolly reports. The 31-year-old veteran is being counted on to ease some of the worries for Coach Blanton Collier.

The Browns planned to hold their first serious practice of the week this afternoon to get ready for the final exhibition contest against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Canton Sunday.

Three players were cut Tuesday. They were rookie defensive end Dennis Biodrowski of Memphis State; defensive tackle Ken Frost, who had been obtained from Dallas in the deal for guard Jim Ray Smith, and offensive tackle Reed Bohovich, who had come from New York for a draft choice only a couple of weeks ago.

Collier said he still is not certain where he will play Connolly, an eight-year veteran of the National Football League with the San Francisco 49ers. The 245-pounder always has played at guard, but he told Collier he is ready to take a crack at the troublesome right tackle spot if he could best help the team at that position.

There is a possibility the Browns may move guard John Wooten to the tackle position and let Connolly work into the vacated guard slot.

Connolly was obtained from the 49ers Monday night for a very high draft choice, believed to be the Browns' No. 1 pick in 1964.

ty school with little knowledge of the team.

No definite starting lineup has been named for the opener by the Tiger Coaching staff yet.

Several positions are as yet undecided and there may be some last minute changes according to Starr.

However he has indicated he will stick pretty close to the players who have seen most of the initial action in the two scrimmages this year.

Howard (Hodge) Dade, Bruce Horn, Jim McCoskey and Gary Betts will be seeing action at half-back positions, Duke Fyffe will start at fullback while the quarterbacking duties will probably be divided between Tom Tootle and Dave Bass.

END PROSPECTS are Mick Tomlinson, John Pharr and Bob Purcell. Leading tackle candidates are Howard Fletcher, Mike Ramey and Jim Starkey while Joe List, Tom Copland and Rich Samuels are top contenders for the guard slots. Jack Martin and John Hatcher are the center prospects.

Although Starr has been disappointed with both scrimmage sessions held by Circleville, he noted the team had a real good practice session yesterday.

"The spirit of the team is getting a lot better," he noted. "In the early practices and the scrimmages, they just didn't seem to have it."

"We can have a real good team this year," the first year mentor said.

"But right now Olenfanty will be tough enough. We will worry about the remainder of the games as they come."

Wittenberg Grid Aide Injured in Scrimmage

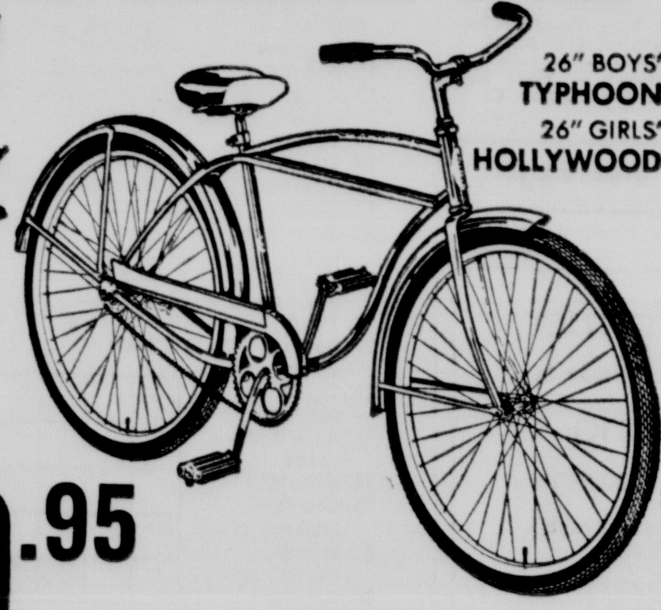

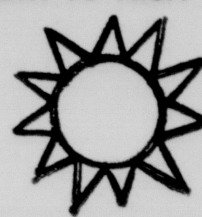

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A blocking sled and an assistant coach are the first casualties of Wittenberg University's pre-season football drills.

End Jim Warden caused the two casualties Tuesday when he jarred the sled, which had Coach Bill Malloy aboard, with a block.

A heavy spring in the sled broke, striking three of Malloy's fingers. The coach's fingers were not broken, but a doctor said he will be unable to use the hand for a week.

At that time, The Tigers take to the field against the Olen tangy Braves, a team they defeated by a walloping 42-0 score last year.

Olen tangy is a member of the Mid Ohio League. And right now that is about all that is known by the Circleville coaching staff about the invaders.

"We'll be going into this game cold turkey," Coach Paul Starr said early today. "They have changed coaches and in spite of everything we have tried we just can't find out a thing about them."

CONSEQUENTLY, Starr reports the staff has no idea what kind of football they will have to play Friday.

Last year the Brave Roster listed nine seniors, 12 juniors and eight sophomores, indicating they should have a fairly experienced unit returning. Last year the Tigers traveled to the Delaware Coun-

Connolly Joins Browns List As Lineman

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns must cut another player from their roster today when offensive lineman Ted Connolly reports. The 31-year-old veteran is being counted on to ease some of the worries for Coach Blanton Collier.

The Browns planned to hold their first serious practice of the week this afternoon to get ready for the final exhibition contest against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Canton Sunday.

Three players were cut Tuesday. They were rookie defensive end Dennis Bidrowski of Memphis State; defensive tackle Ken Frost, who had been obtained from Dallas in the deal for guard Jim Ray Smith; and offensive tackle Reed Bohovich, who had come from New York for a draft choice only a couple of weeks ago.

Collier said he still is not certain where he will play Connolly, an eight-year veteran of the National Football League with the San Francisco 49ers. The 245-pounder always has played at guard, but he told Collier he is ready to take a crack at the troublesome right tackle spot if he could best help the team at that position.

There is a possibility the Browns may move guard John Wooten to the tackle position and let Connolly work into the vacated guard slot.

Connolly was obtained from the 49ers Monday night for a very high draft choice, believed to be the Browns' No. 1 pick in 1964.

ty school with little knowledge of the team.

No definite starting lineup has been named for the opener by the Tiger Coaching staff yet.

Several positions are as yet undecided and there may be some last minute changes according to Starr.

Howard (Hodge) Dade, Bruce Horn, Jim McCoskey and Gary Betts will be seeing action at half-back positions, Duke Fyffe will start at fullback while the quarterbacking duties will probably be divided between Tom Tootle and Dave Bass.

END PROSPECTS are Mick Tomlinson, John Pharr and Bob Purcell. Leading tackle candidates are Howard Fletcher, Mike Ramey and Jim Starkey while Joe List, Tom Copland and Rich Samuels are top contenders for the guard slots. Jack Martin and John Hatcher are the center prospects.

Although Starr has been disappointed with both scrimmage sessions held by Circleville, he noted the team had a real good practice session yesterday.

"The spirit of the team is getting a lot better," he noted. "In the early practices and the scrimmages, they just didn't seem to have it."

"We can have a real good team this year," the first year mentor said.

"But right now Olen tangy will be tough enough. We will worry about the remainder of the games as they come."

Wittenberg Grid Aide Injured in Scrimmage
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A blocking sled and an assistant coach are the first casualties of Wittenberg University's pre-season football drills.

End Jim Warden caused the two casualties Tuesday when he jarred the sled, which had Coach Bill Malloy aboard, with a block. A heavy spring in the sled broke, striking three of Malloy's fingers. The coach's fingers were not broken, but a doctor said he will be unable to use the hand for a week.

Gridder Given Second Chance

Minnesota Star QB Picked Up by Toronto

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lee Grosscup got the ax and Sandy Stephens got a second chance.

The two quarterbacks were the key figures in separate professional football maneuvers in the United States and Canada Tuesday: Grosscup being dropped in a mandatory cut by the National and American Football Leagues, and Stephens being claimed for a palty $350.

Grosscup, a former reserve quarterback for the New York Giants and Minnesota Vikings of the NFL, was lopped off the roster of the rebuilding New York Jets of the American Football League.

Stephens, All-America at Minnesota in 1961, was claimed on waivers by Toronto of the Canadian Football League with the waiver price of $350 going to Montreal, the team that suspended him last week.

Otherwise, veteran linemen and a flock of rookies were the chief targets of the parring knives as the NFL cut to 40 players and the AFL to 33.

The articulate Grosscup, an outstanding passer in his college days at Utah, came to the Giants in 1959 as their top draft choice. He spent three seasons with the Giants, almost all of its on his own special folding camp chair.

He was traded to Minnesota a year ago, released by the Vikings and signed by the then New York Titans, forerunner of the Jets. He had a brief, outstanding career with the AFL team before being sidelined by a knee injury.

Stephens was one of the most widely sought players in the country when he signed a three-year, no-cut contract, reportedly for $70,000, with the Montreal Alouettes in 1962.

He was unimpressive in his rookie season with the Alouettes and in the AL's first two games this season. He was benched for being overweight two weeks ago, suspended last week and placed on waivers Tuesday.

Syracuse, Indians Vie for IL Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Indianapolis, winner of the International League's Southern Division championship, takes on Northern Division winner Syracuse in a drive for the pennant tonight.

The Indians won the division title Tuesday night by beating Atlanta 1-0 in a sudden-death, one-game playoff.

The winners of the series will play another best four-of-seven for the Governor's Cup.

Gene Freese of the Cincinnati Reds was the first freshman to play varsity baseball, football and basketball at West Liberty (Pa.) State.

2 Minute Mile Possible in HTA Pace at Downs

The $11,600 HTA Pace at Scioto Downs on Friday, Sept. 6th, took on added luster last weekend when two of the 32 eligibles to the first leg of the touring pacing series cracked the two minute mile barrier.

Last Friday night, Coffee Break, the celebrated son of Good Time, owned by the C. & M Stable of Archbold, Ohio, won the $83,000 American National Stake in 2:00 flat, defeating the great Harold J. Then on Saturday night, unheralded Rusty Range startled the racing world with a dazzling victory in 1:59.

Trained and driven by Willard Niles, this brown son of Russet Hal, streaked to the half mile pole in :58 4-5. HTA eligible Gamecock grabbed the lead at the three-quarter pole followed by Shady Dale Monitor, with Rusty Range third.

At the head of the stretch, Rusty Range swung three horses wide to romp home in 1:59 for a new life time record for the Michigan owned sidewheeler.

The mile in 1:59 for Rusty Range, the 2:00 mile for Coffee Break, and the expected eight to twelve entries in Friday night's star-studded event at Scioto, could add up to a new World Record for pacers over a five-eighth mile track.

Henry T. Adios set the Scioto record last year in 1:58 in the HTA Pace. Trainer driver Stanley Dancer who was aboard Henry T. will be back with Lehigh Hanover who has a record of 1:58 4-5 last year, and a mile in 2:00 this season.

The first HTA eligible to move into the spacious stable-area at Scioto Downs was Adora's Dream, the fleet bay son of Knight Dream, owned by Herschel Quillan of Dagsboro, Delaware. The sturdy 4-year-old has won in 2:00 this year at Yonkers, from where he was shipped.

He was followed Sunday morning by the arrival from Chicago of Coffee Break, Buxton Hanover, Harold J. Lehigh Hanover, and Rusty Range.

Lombardi Says Packers Ready

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Coach Vince Lombardi thinks his National Football League champion Green Bay Packers are ready for their bid for a third straight title.

"I'd say we're ready and if we stay healthy we'll be okay," Lombardi said Tuesday while discussing Monday night's 24-17 exhibition victory over the New York Giants, the team the Packers defeated in the last two title showdowns.

"That was as good a football game as you'll see in the league season," said Lombardi.

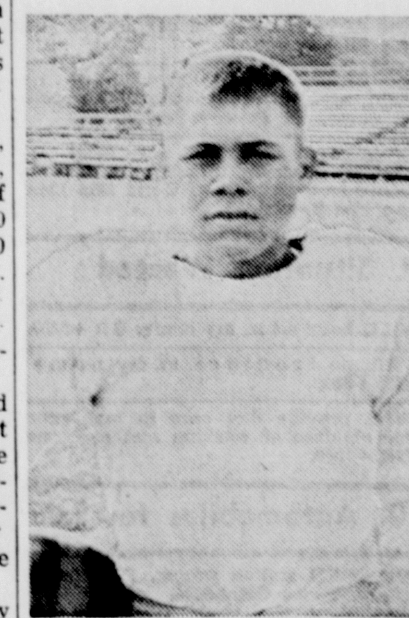

"The Giants are still one of the real great defensive clubs," said Lombardi, "and we moved against them."

The Packers rolled up 286 yards running and passing to 182 for the Giants. It was the seventh straight Packer victory over the New York club.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—CBS' "The Defenders" apparently started it, but it is evident now that a new requirement of television drama is to "say something."

The rule does not apply to pure entertainment forms—comedy and variety shows—but a message or at least a philosophy must be buried somewhere in every drama.

"The Defenders" has examined on a weekly basis points of view on subjects ranging from illegal operations to academic freedom, and has sometimes shown a regrettable tendency to get a little preachy.

During the coming months, point-of-view series will increase. One will be NBC's "Suspense Theatre," a new Thursday night entry, which will try to blend goose-bumps with themes of significance.

Roy Huggins, producer of the series, insists that drama must say something—and say it entertainingly.

"It really doesn't matter what the statement is," Huggins said. "A few years ago in New York, there were two stage plays on the same street making contradictory statements and both were hits. One was 'A Streetcar Named Desire,' with Blanche DuBois saying that if you live by illusions you will be destroyed. The other was 'Harvey,' saying that if you don't live by illusion you cannot be very happy."

Huggins expects to tackle such subjects as lack of communication between parents and children and sterility of life for those who withdraw deliberately from its main stream.

"It doesn't matter what we say—we can, in fact, make a different statement each week, even contradict ourselves," he said. "The important thing is to make that human statement with validity and to make it dramatically."

The series, interrupted occasionally by a Perry Como variety hour, begins Oct. 10.

Froehling Set To Test Aussie

Floridian Seeks Exit From Tennis Doghouse

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Frank Froehling III is a long drink of water out of Coral Gables, Fla., who is battling to get out of the tennis doghouse and back into the Davis Cup picture.

His big chance comes today—against Roy Emerson, generally rated the best amateur tennis player in the world.

"If I beat Emmo," Froehling said, referring to the second-seeded Queenslander by his nickname, "I figure they can't overlook me. If I lose—well, it's back to the dungeons for me."

Ranked No. 2 nationally behind Chuck McKinley and a Davis Cup team member last year, the gangling Florida youth with the divot-digging service has been given the cold shoulder this year.

He wasn't seeded in this tournament. He was overlooked when the U.S. Davis Cup squads were named for the Mexican and Venezuelan matches.

"Part of it is my fault—I've been off my game. Part of it is because I am in their doghouse," Froehling said. "They haven't liked me because I used to act up as a kid—but that was a long time ago. They shouldn't hold that against me now."

Froehling pulled off one of the big victories Tuesday in a dizzy day of swirling winds and staggering upsets. Three of the men's seeded players went to the sidelines and one of the seeded women, Robyn Ebborn of Australia.

The 6-foot-3 Froehling knocked out Antonio Palafox, one of the two stars of Mexico's Davis Cup teams, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4. He gave an overpowering performance.

Ronnie Barnes, the Pan-American champion from Brazil, pulled the biggest coup when he eliminated fifth-seeded Ken Fletcher, one of the men Australia is depending on to keep the Davis Cup down under. It took him seven match points to put over the clincher 6-8, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Another Brazilian, 18-year-old Thomas Koch, ousted seventh-seeded Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, and slender Dave Sanderlin of Los Angeles, a student at UCLA, put out Sam Richardson of Dallas, 1-6, 8-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Ebborn, No. 8 in the women's competition, bowed to Mrs. Yola Ramirez Ochoa 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

JERRY LYNCH, OF THE PITTSBURGH PIRATES, WHOSE SLOGAN SHOULD BE: "IN A PINCH, CALL LYNCH." HE'LL SET A RECORD EVERY TIME HE HITS A PINCH HOMER, HAVING BROKEN THE OLD MARK OF 14 SET BY GEORGE CROWE.

The Circleville Herald, Wed. September 4, 1963 13 Dr. Kildare

EVERYBODY'S BOATING

BOATING PLEASURE is enhanced by common sense and courteous behavior toward oneself, the passengers, and others in the water. New York and New Jersey have developed a safe boating code that should be adopted by all boaters:

1. I will learn to swim well enough to care for myself and to help others in difficulty.
2. I will have all my safety equipment on board before I leave shore.
3. I will keep my boat in good repair.
4. I will ventilate closed areas in my boat before I start my motor.
5. I will not leave shore in a leaky boat.
6. I will check my fuel supply before starting to be sure it is ample.
7. I will keep bilges and decks clean.
8. I will obey the rules of the road.
9. I will learn to use navigation aids to guide me.
10. I will not hurry or be careless.

Davis Lagging In Effort To Keep Hit Title

Pittsburgh's Groat Holds Edge over Los Angeles Standout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tommy Davis, trying to become the first National League batting champion in a decade to retain his title, lost ground to Dick Groat in his latest effort but kept the popoff.

Davis collected only one hit Tuesday night, but it was a clutch Los Angeles Dodgers wheeling toward their long-awaited pennant single in the 10th inning that drove in the winning run in a 4-3 victory over Houston and maintained the Dodgers' six-game bulge over second-place St. Louis.

Davis, a 24-year-old right-handed swinger, truded off the field last October with a .346 average and the batting title, after the Dodgers lost the third and deciding game of the pennant playoff with San Francisco.

Now the Dodgers are heading for the champagne popoff they missed last year and Davis is struggling to become the first repeat batting champion since Stan Musial of St. Louis in 1950-51-52. Davis, hitting .322, is tied with Vada Pinson of Cincinnati for second place.

Groat, batting king at Pittsburgh with a .325 mark in 1960, is hitting .327 this year while playing shortstop for St. Louis. He went 2-for-4 as the Cardinals ran their longest winning streak of the season to six games by walloping Pittsburgh 10-5.

Juan Marichal joined the 20-victory club as third-place San Francisco blasted the Chicago Cubs 16-3. Philadelphia's Ray Culp shut out Milwaukee 2-0 on two hits and Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall blanked the New York Mets 5-0 on three hits.

Detroit knocked off the American League-leading New York Yankees 3-2 in 15 innings. Baltimore edged Boston 4-3 and Kansas City downed Minnesota 3-2. The other clubs were not scheduled.

The Colts scored in the top of the 10th on Rusty Staub's run-producing single before pinch hitter Moose Skowron got the Dodgers started with a single in the bottom half. A single by Jim Gilliam and Wally Moon's sacrifice fly got the tying run across. Gilliam then stole second. Davis singled and reliever Ron Perranoski, 14-2, had another victory. Dick Farrell, 10-13, took the loss.

Trailing 4-5 going into the sixth, the Cardinals tied the score on an error by reliever Roy Face, and moved out front to stay on a passed ball by Jim Pagliaroni before Tim McCarver's three-run eighth-inning homer clinched it. Bill White also homered for St. Louis, hitting a career high with his 23rd.

When Ted Kluszewski hit 49 home runs in 1954 he was the first Cincinnati Red to lead the National League in homers since Frank Odwell turned the trick with nine in 1905.

Keough Shines As Redlegs Chalk Shutout

CINCINNATI (AP) — Marty Keough does not have good days as often as some baseball players, but Tuesday was one of them.

Keough, a 242 hitter whom the Cincinnati Reds originally planned to use as a utility outfielder, substituted for Gordy Coleman at first base and provided most of the power as the Reds shut out the New York Mets, 5-0.

Tracy Stallard kept the Reds hitless until the fifth, when Keough led off with his sixth home run of the season. That put the Reds ahead, but they were unable to pull away until Keough came to the rescue in the last inning.

Roger Craig, the pitcher with the league's worst losing record, relieved Stallard after the eighth inning and the Reds started getting hits right away.

Tommy Harper led off with a bunt single. Vada Pinson singled and Frank Robinson hit back to Craig and was safe when Harper was caught in a rundown between third base and home.

Keough came up next and drove in two runs with a single. He scored on Johnny Edwards' safety and Craig left the game. His successor, Grover Powell, gave up another run on Leo Cardenas' singled before getting the Reds out.

Joe Nuxhall won his 13th victory against six defeats and marked the 20th time the Reds had shut out their opponents. The 35-year-old lefthander went all the way for the 11th time this season.

Ex-Miami Gridder Tapped by Broncos

DENVER (AP)—Two rookies, back Charlie Mitchell and tackle Tom Nomina, will play both offensively and defensively for the Denver Broncos in their American Football League opener here Saturday night against Kansas City.

Mitchell, speedster from the University of Washington, will start in the running back spot on offense and will play corner back on defense. Coach Jack Faulkner announced.

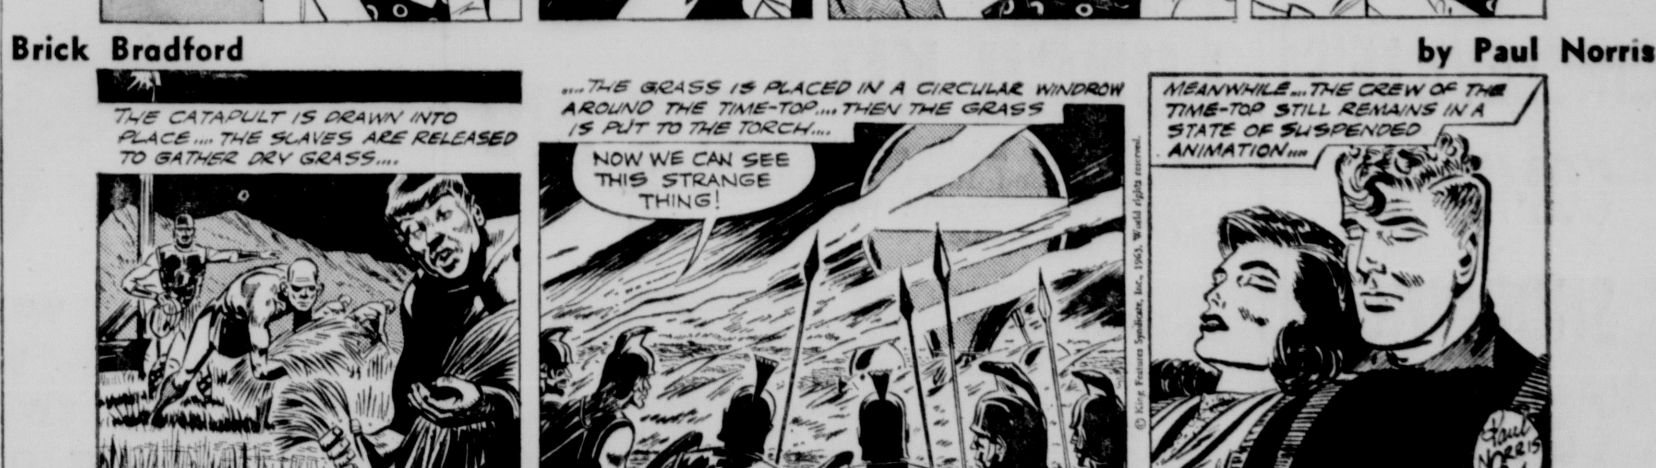

Nomina, 6-foot-5, 270-pound giant from Miami of Ohio, will be used both ways at the tackle position. Faulkner said.

Cincy Royals Advance Ticket Sales Soaring

CINCINNATI (AP)—This is the Cincinnati Royals' best year for advance ticket sales since the National Basketball Association team moved to Cincinnati seven years ago, General Manager Pepper Wilson said today.

Wilson said advance sales have reached $93,421, surpassing the $91,000 total of 1960.

Froehling Set To Test Aussie

Floridian Seeks Exit From Tennis Doghouse

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Frank Froehling III is a long drink of water out of Coral Gables, Fla., who is battling to get out of the tennis doghouse and back into the Davis Cup picture.

His big chance comes today—against Roy Emerson, generally rated the best amateur tennis player in the world.

"If I beat Emmo," Froehling said, referring to the second-seeded Queenslander by his nickname, "I figure they can't overlook me. If I lose—well, it's back to the doghouse for me."

Ranked No. 2 nationally behind Chuck McKinley and a Davis Cup team member last year, the gangling Florida youth with the divot-digging service has been given the cold shoulder this year.

He wasn't seeded in this tournament. He was overlooked when the U.S. Davis Cup squads were named for the Mexican and Venezuelan matches.

"Part of it is my fault—I've been off my game. Part of it is because I am in their doghouse," Froehling said. "They haven't liked me because I used to act up as a kid—but that was a long time ago. They shouldn't hold that against me now."

Froehling pulled off one of the big victories Tuesday in a dizzy day of swirling winds and staggering upsets. Three of the men's seeded players went to the sidelines and one of the seeded women, Robyn Ebbern of Australia.

The 6-foot-3 Froehling knocked out Antonio Palafox, one of the two stars of Mexico's Davis Cup teams, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4. He gave an overpowering performance.

Ronnie Barnes, the Pan-American champion from Brazil, pulled the biggest coup when he eliminated fifth-seeded Ken Fletcher, one of the men Australia is depending on to keep the Davis Cup down under. It took him seven match points to put over the clincher 6-8, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Another Brazilian, 18-year-old Thomas Koch, ousted seventh-seeded Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, and slender Dave Sanderlin of Los Angeles, a student at UCLA, put out Sam Richardson of Dallas, 1-6, 8-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Ebbern, No. 8 in the women's competition, bowed to Mrs. Yola Ramirez Ochoa 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

EVERYBODY'S BOATING

BOATING PLEASURE is enhanced by common sense and courteous behavior toward oneself, the passengers, and others in the water. New York and New Jersey have developed a safe boating code that should be adopted by all boaters:

1. I will learn to swim well enough to care for myself and to help others in difficulty.
2. I will have all my safety equipment on board before I leave shore.
3. I will keep my boat in good repair.
4. I will ventilate closed areas in my boat before I start my motor.
5. I will not leave shore in a leaky boat.
6. I will check my fuel supply before starting to be sure it is ample.
7. I will keep bilges and decks clean.
8. I will obey the rules of the road.
9. I will learn to use navigation aids to guide me.
10. I will not hurry or be careless.
11. I will not allow horseplay on my boat.
12. I will see that all passengers who cannot swim wear life preservers, and will have one aboard for every passenger.
13. I will heed weather warnings.
14. I will not use my boat in dangerous or off-limit waters at any time.
15. I will use caution when boating in areas that are not familiar to me.
16. I will not operate my boat near swimmers.
17. I will respect the rights of others.
18. I will keep my wake down, especially in congested areas.
19. I will not misuse my boat and its power.
20. I will tell others where I plan to go and when I expect to return each time I take my boat out on the water.

Delegation Seeks Corrective Action

A petition seeking elimination of undesirable health conditions in the Pickaway County Fairgrounds vicinity was submitted last night to Circleville Council.

The call for action was sounded by 20 residents living near the Fairgrounds who signed the petition. A delegation was on hand to voice grievances.

Objections included extreme dust, odor, the nearness of horse barns to houses, a manure pile that fosters flies, noise at night and other undesirable conditions.

Although the matter was referred to Council's health and safety committees, the petition signers were told the city apparently has no ordinances specifically outlawing such practices. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins suggested the Board of County Commissioners and other governing officials be requested to take corrective action.

SPOKESMEN for the delegation, claiming conditions are getting worse each year, threatened to bring suit against the responsible agencies unless positive action is taken.

Members of the delegation said they already have approached the County Commission and health officials, but without success.

Council, receiving the petition and placing it on file, indicated the matter will be discussed with county officials in an effort to find a satisfactory solution.

In other business, PCC Ervin Leist, public utilities manager, approached Council with a proposal to purchase a tract of land adjacent to the site of the new water treatment plant near Island Road. He said the main purpose would be to protect the city's invested interest in the area.

The area in mind encloses about 17 acres. Leist said it may be feasible for the city to purchase the entire amount or only a part of it.

The land, owned by C. F. Replogle, will be listed for auction on Sept. 13, according to the utility head's report. Rescinding to discuss the proposal, the solons then moved to authorize the Board of Public Utilities to continue negotiations for the real estate.

Baptists Eye Role in Civil Rights Fight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Delegates to the 83rd annual meeting of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., in session here will be asked to consider a civil rights program calling for temperate but direct action.

The program, drawn up Tuesday by the Negro body's 87-member board of directors, provides for a civil rights commission within the five-million-member church. One of the commission's main functions would be to maintain a representative in Washington as a contact with members of Congress.

The representative would not be a lobbyist, said Dr. J.H. Jackson, convention president, but would "create rapport between us and the members of Congress" and would "tell us when to storm Congress with letters and telegrams."

The purpose of the convention's civil rights commission, among other things, would be to work for first class citizenship within the framework of law and order and for better human relations at local and national levels.

Lausche Ponders Funds Imbalance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says he has a suggestion to solve what he calls the imbalance in funds going abroad.

An immediate remedy, Lausche said Tuesday, is for President Kennedy to call the deficit problem to the attention of the American people and to make the plea, "See America."

The Ohio senator said the nation is going to have to curb the deficit that occurs from the dollars spent by American tourists in foreign countries.

This imbalance, Lausche contends, totaled $3.9 billion from 1960 through 1962.

This, Lausche said, coupled with other funds being spent abroad, resulted in a total for the three years of an $8.4 billion deficit in the balance of payments.

Sweeney Ready For Congress Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland attorney Robert E. Sweeney, the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state attorney general in 1962, says he's available for the party's nomination for congressman-at-large next year.

Sweeney told a Columbus radio station Tuesday night he feels the Democrats should nominate the strongest vote-getter.

"Therefore, I'm available," he said.

Sweeney lost to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe in the November election by 108,000 votes. But, with the exception of Sen. Frank J. Lausche he was the Democrats' strongest vote-getter.

Opposing Pickets Seen in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pickets both for and against the temporary transfer of some classes from one elementary school building to another demonstrated in Cincinnati Tuesday.

Pickets for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called the transfer segregation. The National Association for the Advancement of White People picketed to protest the NAACP demonstration.

Disputed is whether the 130 Evanston School pupils should be transferred to the Oakley School in four class groups or as individuals scattered through the second and third grades. Evanston school is largely Negro. Oakley is predominately white.

Grange Election Set

The annual election of officers of Scioto Grange 256 will be held 8 p. m. tomorrow.

Johnson Opens Goodwill Trip

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew into Sweden Tuesday on a lengthy goodwill trip to Scandinavia. He called it "a mission of old friendship and new confidence."

Bringing the good wishes of more than a million Americans of Swedish descent and the personal greetings of President Kennedy, Johnson arrived at Arlanda Airport, 25 miles outside Stockholm.

Premier Tage Erlander and members of his cabinet greeted the vice president.

Erlander said he was sure Johnson's visit would strengthen the already close ties between Sweden and the United States.

Supermarket Aide Accused of Theft

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — The president of a chain of supermarkets in Wooster, Orrville, Dover and New Philadelphia has signed a larceny affidavit against an employee, 24-year-old Jerry McQueen of Wooster, in connection with the disappearance of more than $8,000 from the Wooster store.

James K. Leedy, Wayne County prosecutor, said McQueen's automobile was found parked at Cleveland Hopkins Airport Sunday. Two empty money bags were inside.

The money was taken from a safe in Buehler's Market, which closed Saturday night. The supermarket owner, E. L. Buehler, made the accusation against McQueen, assistant store manager who was to have deposited the money Saturday.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

PARTNERS: The United States and Soviet Union will team up this year at the South Pole to try to learn more about cosmic rays, the high energy particles that bombard the earth.

The National Science Foundation, helping to finance the study, announced Tuesday that antenna towers 105 to 190 feet high will be put up at three U.S. antarctic stations and at one or two Russian installations.

The idea is "to detect distinct solar cosmic ray events and to investigate their variations in energy, time and location."

The foundation said other nations may also join in the study later.

STAY AND SAVE: To help keep dollars from traveling—and staying—abroad, Rep. Al Ullman would like Americans to do their traveling at home next year.

The Oregon Democrat announced Tuesday he had introduced legislation to designate 1964 as "See America Year."

Tourist dollars spent in the United States, said Ullman, would "help solve a crucial problem in our balance of payments."

NO DEAL: The State Department has indicated it would thumb down a reported Soviet proposal for a German peace treaty that would leave that nation divided.

A report from Moscow quoted a West German parliamentary leader, Thomas Dehler, as saying Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had suggested to him a treaty which would sanction the wall around Berlin as a border.

In reply to newsmen's questions, press officer Richard I. Phillips said the State Department isn't certain what Gromyko has in mind so cannot issue a formal comment.

"However," he added, "our position is well known with respect to a German peace treaty: We would sign a peace treaty only with a united Germany."

CEILING ZERO: The General Accounting Office has reported to Congress that a Navy error cost the government $1.1 million for altimeters that couldn't be used.

The Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, the GAO said Tuesday, did not get approval for frequencies to be used for the radar altimeters and thus the device had to be completely redesigned.

The mistake was not discovered until development of the altimeters — for use on carrier-based planes—was well under way on a contract awarded in 1957, the GAO report said.

ASCS Ballot Count To Be Held Friday

Ballots received in the Pickaway ASCS County Office will be tabulated on Friday, to determine the 1963-64 ASC Community Committees, according to Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Pickaway ASC County Committee.

This tabulation will also determine the delegate who will represent each community in the county convention to elect a county ASC committee for the coming year, Mowery said.

Mowery also announced that the county convention is open to the public and will be held at Boyer's Restaurant, September 13, at 9:30 a. m.

Radcliff To Speak At Bar Assn. Meet

William D. Radcliff, 630 Ridgewood Drive, is scheduled as a speaker for the annual meeting of Ohio State Bar Assn. District 17 in Cincinnati on Saturday.

Radcliff, former appellate judge of the fourth district, will speak to attorneys from six southeastern Ohio counties on "Obligations of the Attorney." Radcliff is currently associated with the State Attorney General's office.

District 17 is comprised of Athens, Hocking, Meigs, Noble and Washington counties.

Delegation Seeks Corrective Action

A petition seeking elimination of undesirable health conditions in the Pickaway County Fairgrounds vicinity was submitted last night to Circleville Council.

The call for action was sounded by 20 residents living near the Fairgrounds who signed the petition. A delegation was on hand to voice grievances.

Objections included extreme dust, odor, the nearness of horse barns to houses, a manure pile that fosters flies, noise at night and other undesirable conditions.

Although the matter was referred to Council's health and safety committee, the petition signers were told the city apparently has no ordinances specifically outlawing such practices. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins suggested the Board of County Commissioners and other governing officials be requested to take corrective action.

SPOKESMEN for the delegation, claiming conditions are getting worse each year, threatened to bring suit against the responsible agencies unless positive action is taken.

Members of the delegation said they already have approached the County Commission and health officials, but without success.

Council, receiving the petition and placing it on file, indicated the matter will be discussed with county officials in an effort to find a satisfactory solution.

In other business, PCC Ervin Leist, public utilities manager, approached Council with a proposal to purchase a tract of land adjacent to the site of the new water treatment plant near Island Road. He said the main purpose would be to protect the city's invested interest in the area.

The area in mind encloses about 17 acres. Leist said it may be feasible for the city to purchase the entire amount or only a part of it.

The land, owned by C. F. Replogle, will be listed for auction on Sept. 13, according to the utility head's report. Receiving to discuss the proposal, the solons then moved to authorize the Board of Public Utilities to continue negotia-

THE ONLY legislation coming before the city fathers was a resolution permitting termination of a subdivision performance bond. The termination was granted to Raymond Rader, owner of Radar Subdivision No. 2.

According to Service Director Ronald Sharrett, the subdivider had met all conditions required according to the bond he furnished. The resolution was adopted following a suspension of rules.

A resolution calling for formation of an equalizing board to study objections to Circleville's North Storm Sewer Project was not introduced due to lack of members to serve on the panel. Three disinterested freeholders are required.

The measure was held in obedience, meaning the service committee will make renewed efforts to come up with the required three persons to serve on the board.

Baptists Eye Role in Civil Rights Fight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Delegates to the 83rd annual meeting of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., in session here will be asked to consider a civil rights program calling for temperate but direct action.

The program, drawn up Tuesday by the Negro body's 87-member board of directors, provides for a civil rights commission within the five-million-member church. One of the commission's main functions would be to maintain a representative in Washington as a contact with members of Congress.

The representative would not be a lobbyist, said Dr. J.H. Jackson, convention president, but would "create rapport between us and the members of Congress" and would "tell us when to storm Congress with letters and telegrams."

The purpose of the convention's civil rights commission, among other things, would be to work for first class citizenship within the framework of law and order and for better human relations at local and national levels.
